Yanks Win More Towns In Drive on Cherbourg

BULLETIN
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 9 (AP)—Field dispatches said British and Canadian forces joined today in a concerted assault on Caen.

By WES GALLAGHER

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 9 (AP)—American troops hammering toward Cherbourg have captured Ste. Mere Eglise, advancing within 18 miles of the strategic port, the Germans conceded today.

Supreme headquarters made no mention of the town, but declared the Allied forces were making progress in all sectors despite fierce Nazi armored counterattacks over the green wheatfields and orchards of Normandy.

The German communique conceded the loss of Ste, Mere Eglise, astride one of the main German arteries leading to Cherbourg, saying the Americans were pushing "north and south" from the landing head there.

Then a later Berlin broadcast said U. S. troops had advenced a mile beyond the town toward Valognes, 12 miles southeast of the port that would form a great funnel for Allied reinforcements and supplies into the battle for France.

MANY TOWNS FALL TO YANKS

Doughboys have occupied Formigny on the road from Caen to Carentan, a field dispatch said. Formigny, one of the few towns identified of many reported taken, is nine miles northwest of Bayeux, and three miles inland.

American Rear Adm. John Leslie Hall, Jr., on a tour of the beachhead, told correspondents operations were going well, but stressed the necessity of quickly building up our forces.

At least 1600 Nazi prisoners have been taken. A field dispatch said Americans captured 600, including some Russians and Poles.

Lieut.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley, doughboy general, landed in France and is in personal command.

Berlin broadcasts reported street fighting in Caen, and an Allied push toward Carentan, 40 miles to the west, and 29 miles from Cherbourg.

Supreme headquarters gave no confirmation of these or other details, but declared the steadily-augmented Allies were holding firm under counterblows of increasing weight and "making progress" on all sectors.

Front dispatches said the battle was developing into a race for supplies, and "it looks as if the Allies were winning." There was a freshening breeze today over the misty English channel after a hampering overnight rain which ceased at 9 a. m. Visibility was one to four miles. The sea was choppy with white-capped breakers.

The Germans rolled up more tanks, dropped parachute troops and sent some supplies charging to the front behind horses.

The Germans made no mention

FRANCE—German sources report street fighting in Caen (1) while Allied forces have captured Formigny (7) after pushing on from Bayeux (2). Smash toward St. Lo is also reported. To the west, troops have taken Ste. Mere Eglise (3) and are heading for Valognes (4) as airborne forces (5) move for a junction there. Between Lessay and Coutances (6) paratroopers and other airborne troops have been reported.

Invasion Bulletins

NEW YORK (INS)—A British brigadier, captured Tuesday has escaped, and is back at his own headquarters.

LONDON, June 9 (INS)—The German radio reports today that the city of Caen, France, is a mass of flame. German dive-bombers were said to be attacking "Anglo-American" positions near the town.

LONDON (AP)—The Vichy radio announced a ban on motor traffic in the departments of Haute-Loire, Cantal, Allier and Puy-de-Dome. The territory stretches generally northwestward from Marseille toward the Normandy battle area.

LONDON (INS)—Sea-borne units of the American Ninth Air Force have been landed in France. The men include engineers and technicians who will prepare airfields.

NEW YORK (INS)—The British radio today said "the Germans are holding Caen firmly but correspondents believe an Allied attack will begin at any moment."

LONDON (INS)—German authorities began a hurried evacuation of all movable material, stocks, finished goods and equipment from Holland immediately after the invasion of France began.

LONDON, June 9 (INS)—The German radio reported today that the city of Caen, France, is a mass of flames. German dive-bombers were said to be attacking "Anglo-American" positions near the town.

Communique

NO. 7

By The Associated Press

Full Text of Communique No. 7 from Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Forces:

Allied troops have continued to make progress in all sectors despite further reinforcement of German armor.

Landings have continued on all beaches and by-passed strong points of enemy resistance are being steadily reduced.

During yesterday there was desultory firing from some coastal batteries which were again silenced by gunfire from Allied warships.

Allied aircraft continued to support naval and land forces yesterday by attacks on a variety of targets.

Late in the day the weather over northern France caused a reduction in the scale of the air operations.

Our heavy bombers, in strong force, attacked railway targets and air fields beyond the battle areas.

Yesterday morning they were escorted by a medium force of fighters.

These and other fighters strafed ground targets, shooting down 31 enemy aircraft and destroying more than a score on the ground.

From these operations three bombers and 24 fighters are missing.

Medium bombers attacked a road bridge over the Seine at Vernon and fighter bombers struck at troop transport concentrations, gun positions, armored vehicles, railway and road targets behind the battle line.

Fighters patrolled over shipping and the assault area.

Twenty-one enemy aircraft were destroyed.

Eleven of our fighters were lost but two of the pilots are safe.

Rocket firing fighters attacked German E-boats in the channel, leaving one in a sinking condition.

Last night heavy bombers in force attacked railway centers at Rennes, Fougeres, Alencon, Mayenne and Pontaubault.

Two heavy bombers are missing.

Light bombers struck at railway targets behind the battle area during the night.

Nazis Admit Allied Tanks in 6-Mi. Gain

LONDON, June 9 (AP)—The German high command said today Allied tanks from the beachhead west of the Orne had made "encircling attacks" in thrusts west and southwest of Bayeux and had only been checked six miles west of the town.

Although heavy losses were claimed to have been inflicted on the landing forces, the communique admitted the Allies strengthened their bridgehead.

The Allies were also said to have gained ground in a drive northwest from Ste. Mere-Eglise toward Valognes. A Transocean broadcast said this gain was about a mile, and the drive from Bayeux was in the direction of St. Lo.

St. Lo, Ste. Mere-Eglise and Valognes are all on the central line of communications of the Cherbourg peninsula. St. Lo is 20 miles southwest of Bayeux.

German armored forces counter-attacking from Caen were declared by the high command to be engaged in heavy fighting southeast of Bayeux.

One Allied cruiser and a destroyer were declared sunk by E-boats.

The German radio quoted a military spokesman as saying United States airborne troops landing between Valognes and Ste. Mere-Eglise had fought their way through and linked up with the Allied bridgehead on the east coast of the peninsula.

Vichy Regime Ready to Fall?

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP) NBC said today the Berlin ra is "apparently getting ready a possible fall of the Vichy gove ment which is meeting today."

It recorded a Berlin broadc saying "the people's national g ernment is ready to take ove the French government does do its duty."

Nazis Flee Allied Trap On Adriatic

By NOLAND NORGAARD

ROME, June 9 (AP)—German forces guarding the Adriatic sector have started to retreat to avoid encirclement, and for the first time since launching their offensive nearly a month ago, Allied troops rolled forward today along the entire Italian front.

Striving to maintain close contact with the fleeing enemy, who has shown no disposition as yet to make a determined stand, the Allied Fifth Army raced steadily north and northwest from Rome.

Lieut.-Gen. Mark W. Clark's columns, driving north from the capital, occupied the entire Lake Bracciano area and moved on to capture Caprarola, 34 miles north of Rome on the east side of Lake Di Vico, and about 10 miles southeast of the highway junction town of Viterbo.

To the northwest Allied units racing on from Civitavecchia were reported by front line dispatches to be shelling Tarquinia, 55 airline miles from Rome and about three miles inland from the Tyrrhenian coast.

(London reported that the German high command announced abandonment of Tarquinia.)

NAZIS FROM DENMARK

An Allied spokesman said that among prisoners taken in the Lake Bracciano area were Nazis from the 20th German Luftwaffe Field Division.

"This division came to Italy from Denmark which, according to the prisoners, it left only a week ago," said the spokesman. "The 20th Luftwaffe Field Division differs from the normal infantry division only in the fact that its personnel is drawn from the Luftwaffe Ground Staff, as in the case of the Hermann Goering Panzer Division."

The five-month standstill on the lines in the Adriatic sector ended with the Germans starting a withdrawal between the coast and Crecchio, five miles inland.

In the Fifth Army surge north of Rome, the troops moved seven miles north to win the Bracciano area. Another element seized the town of Sutri, six miles north of Lake Bracciano.

Austria Bombed

By GLADWIN HILL

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 9 (AP)—Allied aircraft of all types kept up a disruptive bombardment of German positions behind the lines in France today despite hampering weather. Reports from Switzerland telling of huge formations invading Germany from the south indicated the great Allied aerial pincers once more was swinging into action by daylight.

Switzerland dispatches said the formations flying over the Tyrol, presumably from Italy, started detonations in the neighborhood of Munich and Augsburg.

For the first time since D-Day official reports, however, made no mention of Allied air-borne operations last night.

During operations of the past 24 hours 52 German planes were destroyed in the air and 20 others were accounted for on the ground, as against an Allied loss of 35 fighters and five bombers.

Germans made four fighter-bomber attacks against the invasion beaches between early yesterday morning and late last night, employing some 60 planes, but were driven off each time.

Several hundred RAF heavy bombers, flying through rain and thick clouds, hit the switching yards and rail junctions at Rennes, Fougeres, Alencon, Mayenne and Pontaubault last night. These lie south and west of the Normandy fighting front. Two of the heavy bombers are missing from these operations.

Reds Plan Drive Big as Invasion

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, June 9 (AP)—All signs point to an early opening of an offensive by the Red Army on the eastern front to match blows against Hitler on the western front. The Russian people are avidly following progress of the Allies in France and Italy.

Things seen on this correspondent's three recent trips to the Russian front tend to back predictions of a new Red offensive. Preparations are being made for an attack which should shake Hitler from Russian soil and drive the Nazis back to Berlin.

Full of confidence, Red soldiers are anxious to get into the battle, and join the mighty struggle of the United Nations to bring a conclusion of the European war.

Soviet headquarters announced today Red troops had captured a height of great importance north of Iasi in Romania, where a German radio commentator declared yesterday Russian armored forces had launched an offensive on a wide front.

Beachhead Snarls Told

By DON WHITEHEAD
Representing the Combined U. S. Press

WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE, June 8 (delayed) (INS)—The battle of the beachhead has developed into a race to get enough doughboys, guns and supplies ashore to beat back the enemy attack and it looks as if we are winning.

Never before has an army attempted to land such vast numbers of men and materials in such a short time, but the job is being done after a shaky start.

When we landed behind the assault troops the enemy still was pouring a heavy machinegun, mortar and artillery fire into the boats as they drove ashore and had our troops pinned behind a gravel bank just above the water's edge.

Troops, supplies and vehicles began to pile up on the beach at an alarming rate. The enemy controlled the exits with accurate fire and the time schedule was being disrupted.

NEWS CLOGGED 28 HOURS

But under the urging of a soft-spoken brigadier-general the organized positions were silenced and the great surge inland began.

In a matter of a few hours the engineers had roads built from the beach and the heavy stuff was pouring across.

The Army's communication system for correspondents accompanying American troops broke down completely and for more than 28 hours we were unable to get news out.

The public relations officer brought a radio ashore early among the assault waves, but it was put aboard a jeep which he was unable to find until next day.

There was supposed to be a system of couriers to take correspondents' dispatches from the beach to ships, but there were no couriers.

GERMANS IN MANEUVERS

One unforeseen difficulty was that three fresh regiments of German infantry moved to the beach area just before the landing for anti-invasion maneuvers. They were sitting in their positions when the armada arrived off shore.

Along the beatches were underwater barriers, barbed wire, emplacements, concrete houses with 88 mm. guns covering beach approaches. The walls of the houses were of reinforced concrete four to six feet thick.

Two hundred yards from the beach on the side of a steep bank the Germans had built a strongpoint and had one under construction.

This blockhouse was 15 feet square with one opening through which was poked an 88 gun.

Behind the thick walls was ammunition. Behind the blockhouse the gun crew had tunneled into the side of the hill and installed living quarters.

Two young Germans were supposed to man the weapon but they were in quarters when the naval bombardment began and a shell ripped through the gun port.

GLAD OVER CAPTURE

They ran out of their tunnel and hid under a bridge where Lieut. Carl W. Oelze of Cleveland took them prisoner. One was 17, the other 18, and both said they were glad the invasion had come and that they were prisoners.

On the other side of the draw was a similar position and further inland above the exit from the beach was another concrete blockhouse with its 88-gun pointing down the approach.

The prisoners coming back to the rear look small and scrawny. They peer with wonder at the bigger, stronger American boys and their fine equipment.

Along the beach are still the khaki-clad bodies of boys who gave their lives in the United Nations' bid to crush Germany's armed might. But there were not so many as I had expected to see, and I patrolled this strip from end to end.

Jap Army of 70,000 7 Miles From Changsha

By Associated Press

Japan's grinding offensive to cut China in two carried today within seven and one-half miles of Changsha, key Chinese center on the Hankow-Canton railway.

In the only Pacific war theater where the battle tides were running against the Allies, a Japanese force, estimated at 70,000 to 80,000 troops, pressed steadily toward the Hunan Province capital.

A Chinese army spokesman at Chungking said the penetration to seven and one-half miles was made by an enemy column bearing from the north on the rail city whose defenders have been ordered by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to stay to the last.

Meanwhile, Chinese troops, knifing westward in a Salween river offensive designed to reopen the Burma Road, were narrowing gap between them and Allied forces in northern Burma.

The advancing Chinese burst into Lungling, next to Tengchung the most important Japanese base in Yunnan province, and expanded their toehold inside the city's west gate. The Chinese high command also reported the capture of Tenglungchiao, six miles northwest, which snipped enemy communications between Lungling and Tengchung.

Airmen of Gen. MacArthur's command damaged a Japanese heavy cruiser—one of the few carefully-husbanded fleet units the enemy has dared to risk in the Southwest Pacific recently.

Liberator bombers planted two 500-pound bombs near the bow of the cruiser at Waigeo island off northern New Guinea some 350 miles west-northwest of Biak island in the Schoutens where the Yankee invaders were rushing the newly-won Mokmer airdrome into operation.

NAZI PRISONERS AT WORK IN N. H. WOODS
Cut Up Felled Trees At Camp Stark

Nazis Chop Wood In N. H. Forest Camp

In cool, green New Hampshire forests, which offer marked contrast from the heat and glare of the North African desert on which they gained fame—and final defeat—as members of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's crack Afrika Korps, German prisoners of war are busy at work felling trees to ease New England's pulp-wood shortage.

They belong to New England's first prisoner of war work camp in Percy, N. H., but they seem happy and content in their barbed-wire stockade.

3 CENTS A DAY

For their work in the timber they receive 80 cents a day, in addition to their basic allowance of $3 a month, provided for war prisoners under the Geneva pact. They work a nine-hour day.

The camp, which is located 20 miles from Berlin, largest wood pulp processing center in New England, is guarded by United States Army men and is under command of Maj. Edgar G. Schwartz, field artilleryman of Georgetown, Mass.

It was established to help alleviate the wood pulp shortage through a three-cornered arrangement made by the Brown Co. of Berlin, the War Manpower Commission and the War Department.

All the wood goes to the Brown Co., and the Brown Co. supplies lumbermen to train the prisoners, whom the Army supplies and sends to the area from Ft. Devens.

SMALL ARMY POST

The camp, in the midst of dense woodlands and ringed by mountains, consists of a wire fence, a stockade and nine buildings inside. Aside from the wire stockade, it resembles a small Army post.

Attempted escapes are virtually nonexistent; only one man has strayed away up to now, and he didn't get very far.

Native lumbermen in the area declare that the prisoners become good woodsmen in an amazingly short period of time. A very few of them were woodsmen in Germany before the war; most of them are from Middle Germany and were small tradesmen or mechanics.

Wright Workers Heading Back

By the Associated Press

Today was the deadline for 15,000 employes at the Wright Aeronautical Co. airplane engine plant at Lockland, O., either to return to work or lose their jobs and become ineligible for referrals to other warplant employment.

Company officials said the number reporting on the midnight shift "looked pretty good."

The work stoppage, followed a dispute involving transfer of seven Negroes to a department manned by white employes.

Conditions along the rest of the nation's labor front were somewhat improved, with three strikes settled.

Burke Renamed After Uprising

William H. Burke remains as Democratic State chairman today, but only after facing the stiffest opposition he has encountered since entering State-wide politics.

Burke was re-elected to his post last night at a meeting of State delegates only after party leaders had explained his defeat would work against Democratic cooperation which was so necessary at this time and that he would lose prestige for the post of collector of the port.

Women delegates led the revolt against Burke in which Edward McLaughlin, State delegate to the national convention, was nominated for the chairman's post by T. Frank McDonald of Clinton.

Only 46 of the 80 delegates were present, and six votes against Burke would have defeated his hopes for re-election.

After party leaders explained the situation to the delegates, Burke was re-elected.

2d 'Busted' General On Way Back to Top

By WILLIAM FRYE

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—An Army promotion list disclosed today a major-general, demoted in the field to his permanent rank of colonel during the fighting at Salerno last September, is on his way back to the top.

Col. Ernest J. Dawley, a native of Antigo, Wis., was nominated yesterday by President Roosevelt for promotion to brigadier-general—the first public disclosure Dawley had been "busted." Nine months ago he was a major-general, commander of an Army corps.

Two factors are said to have brought the new promotion for Dawley: (1) A feeling his demotion under the stress of a battle situation in which the Germans nearly crushed the Salerno beachhead may have been too hasty, and (2) the fact Dawley since has demonstrated once more his great abilities as a soldier.

A colonel on the permanent regular Army promotion list, Dawley became a temporary major-general Sept. 29, 1941. The following March he assumed command of the Sixth Corps at Providence, R. I., and subsequently went to North Africa.

He commanded the corps which struck the beach at Salerno. A Nazi tank column blasted through the beachhead and actually reached the beach. Lieut.-Gen. Clark is said to have decided Dawley had "lost his head." He demoted him and sent him back to the United States.

Dawley was assigned as assistant to the commanding general of the Field Artillery Replacement Training Center at Camp Robert, Cal. More recently he has served at the Tank Destroyer Center, Camp Hood, Tex.

At both places, he is said to have proved again to be an outstanding officer. The recommendation for his promotion once more to general officer rank came from Lieut.-Gen. McNair, commanding general of the Army Ground Forces—an officer regarded in the Army as severe in cases of demotion.

Kelly Hearing Is Nearing End

Two circulators of petitions for former Lieut. Gov. Francis E. Kelly for the Democratic nominations for U. S. Senator and Attorney General testified before the State Ballot Law Commission today they double-checked every signature obtained with official voting lists.

Peter J. Graham of Park st., Winchester, testified he circulated petitions in Quincy, Cambridge and Lynn with the assistance of several other men.

Each carried a copy of the voting list, he said, and checked each signature with the voter's name on the list. He said voters were asked to sign the nomination papers for each office.

Joseph M. Griffin of Clement ave., West Roxbury, who said he worked with Graham in Lynn and Cambridge, gave the same testimony. Each denied inserting any middle initials in signatures.

As the hearing opened for the final session, since a decision on the protest against Kelly's papers by 5 p. m. is mandatory, Chairman Joseph A. Conway announced one hour would be given to each counsel for final argument.

Conway said the commission decision would be announced immediately after arguments.

Mystery Blast Burns Teacher

Miss Mary B. Waldstein, 56, of Lothian rd., Brighton, a Boston school teacher, was seriously burned today in a mystery explosion which wrecked the kitchen of her apartment and awakened residents a block distant.

Answering calls by neighbors, police found the victim with both arms badly burned. Taken to City Hospital, she was unable to give any explanation for the blast.

Deputy Fire Chief Joseph Shea could give no reason for the explosion and ordered an investigation." Windows and doors were blown out by the blast, so terrific that one kitchen wall was moved back several inches. An accompanying fire was extinguished with loss estimated at $500.

Police said the victim is a teacher at the Hancock School.

Flier Takes Stand To Deny Attacks

SANTA ANA, Cal., June 9 (AP)—Air Forces Capt. Morrison J. Wilkinson, Jr., was called to the witness stand today to tell a 10-officer court-martial his life story and to defend himself against nine charges including attack and bigamy.

The 28-year-old former flight leader with the American Volunteer Group in China was prepared to relate a full and complete story, with nothing held back, his counsel announced.

The prosecution's case was completed yesterday with questioning of Maj. C. E. Myers, provost marshal at the Santa Ana Army base. He testified that, during inquiry into the case, Wilkinson admitted having had sex relations with Caprice Capron, 17, night club dancer. Miss Capron previously told the court the accused beat and attacked her April 20 in the Hollywood hills.

A defense motion for dismissal of all nine specifications against Wilkinson was denied.

There were chuckles from spectators when Maj. Jesse C. Duvall, defense counsel, demonstrated a dancer's movement in cross-examining Miss Dean Stull, Hollywood night club dancer. Sixteen years old yesterday, she testified she accepted Wilkinson's offer to drive her home from the night club April 12 but he drove to an isolated spot and seized her.

She said she fought him off with scratches and kicks for about five minutes, finally escaped and walked home.

Jackie Coogan Lauds Use of Glider Troops

NEW YORK, June 9 (INS)—Flight Officer John L. Coogan—"Jackie" Coogan, who was "The Kid" of movie fame—expressed enthusiasm over the use of glider-borne troops in the Allied Invasion of France.

Home on a 21-day furlough from the China-India-Burma front, Coogan said that last March he flew British Chindit troops into Burma by glider—the first operation of its kind against the Japs. The size of the glider force in France, he declared, is "a marvelous demonstration of this type of striking power."

Mrs. Noxon's Account Read

By PAULINE WARERN

PITTSFIELD, June 9—In a hushed courtroom this morning the jurors who will decide the fate of John F. Noxon—wealthy corporation attorney on trial for the alleged murder of his abnormal baby—heard a police stenographer read Mrs. Noxon's own account of what happened on the fateful afternoon young Lawrence was electrocuted.

Miss Mary Bristlo, retired Berkshire County Court stenographer, read the stenographic notes she took at the time Mr. and Mrs. Noxon were questioned by police before Noxon was arrested.

Present were Valmore Cote, assistant district attorney, and Inspector Daniel McColgan. Police Chief John L. Sullivan of Pittsfield did the questioning.

TOOK BABY UP STAIRS

During the course of the interview Noxon said to his wife:

"Peggy, why don't you tell from the time you brought the baby home? We might as well get as complete statements as we can."

Mrs. Noxon: "All right. After I came home, I took the baby up stairs in his crib so he could have a nap. He didn't have any in the afternoon, and he had a little nap while I was out on the porch. Before supper I wanted him to wake up enough to eat his supper, so I brought him down stairs. Put him in this place in the book room, and then we were talking about the corn, getting it for supper. So I went out, leaving him there. Jack (Mr. Noxon) was going to do something with the radio and would be in the room, so he would be all right. So I went out to the garden and picked the corn and pulled off the husks out there, and I brought it in. I couldn't bring it in as it was.

"I had a big basket in the kitchen to bring the corn in from the garden. I went up and got the basket, put the corn in and brought it back, and then it was time to get the supper for the baby, so I did and it took quite a while, and I went into the front hall to go upstairs with it and I set it down on the stairs to go in and see where the baby was. I saw the baby, but I didn't do anything."

Q—Had Dr. Hunt said anything to you about the child's left eye that afternoon? A—What do you mean, the black and blue part? I said, "This is an awful black and blue spot," and the doctor said "How did it happen?" and I told him.

Q—What did you tell him? A—He bumped himself in the crib. That was the week before. Then I asked him if I had done the right thing for it, and he said I had.

Chief Sullivan: Mrs. Noxon, could you say what time you brought the baby down stairs into the library? A—No. I can't exactly.

GOT BABY'S SUPPER

Q—Do you remember what time you got the baby's supper? A—Yes; that was between half past 5 and quarter to 6.

Q—Did you place the baby in the chair over near the radio? A—When I came down, yes.

Q—That was the chair you placed the baby in? A—Yes.

Chief Sullivan then testified that Mr. Noxon asked his wife: Did you see or hear me during that time? (Mrs. Noxon) What time?

(Mr. Noxon) After the time you put the baby in the chair? (Mrs. Noxon) I went out right away, but I thought I could see you through the window when I came up with the corn sitting there.

(Mr. Noxon) Did you see me go into the garage? (Mrs. Noxon) No, I didn't see you. I heard the door slam when I was getting the supper out there. I didn't know whether you were going in or out. The dining room door slammed.

During the reading, the defendant listened from the prisoner's cage, his chin sunk in his hand, never once looking up.

Mrs. Noxon, accompanied by her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Samule Kennedy, sat just a few feet away, looking frail and very pale. As usual, she was dressed in impeccable taste and very simply—in a faultlessly tailored brown suit with a white blose and tiny, round black hat.

BAY STATER IN ENGLAND—Marguerite Newton of Pittsfield has arrived in England to serve the armed forces as a Red Cross assistant, it was made known today. Previous to her service with the Red Cross, she had been employed in Boston.

Girl's Body Found Youth of 17 Arrested

HARTFORD, Ct., June 9 (AP)—The body of a woman found recently in the fire ruins of a summer cottage in the Neversink district of Lake Candlewood has been identified as that of 17-year-old Josephine Medina of New York city, State Police said that William B. Sanders, 17, of the Bronx, N. Y., had been charged with murder.

Investigators said the body was placed in a shallow grave beneath the cottage before the place was destroyed by fire.

Reds Tell Wallace News of Invasion

MOSCOW, June 9 (AP)—The Russian news agency Tass in a dispatch June 8 from Irktusk, south central Siberia, said Vice-Pres. Henry A. Wallace, "while on the way to other places," received the invasion news June 6 from the chairman of the Khabarovsk provincial executive committee.

"Wallace received the news with emotion," the dispatch said.

Top Psychic Fails in Test

By PAULINE WARREN

There is a top fortune teller in town who is always booked up so far in advance it takes a month's strong persuasion to get an appointment with her. She charges $2 for a 15-minute reading and Mr. Morgenthau should be interested in her income tax as her revenue must be tremendous. Helen Farlow (my collaborator) had been trying in vain to see her for three weeks when we finally turned the trick.

Mentioning a Mrs. Winters who had advised me to consult "Madame" on an urgent problem I pleaded for an appointment. Madame was pleased at Mrs. Winters' recommendation but answered doubtfully she did not seem to recall the lady. My vague description was:

"She's not very tall and has whitish hair—surely you must remember her?"

This put Madame on the spot. She couldn't afford not to remember some perhaps valued client, so she bit with:

"Oh! Is she from out of town? Somewhere near Worcester?"

But even then it was far from clear sailing. Madame wished to be kind but she still couldn't "take" me for at least two weeks—she was deeply sorry, but that was the earliest she could sandwich me in between other "readings" on her crowded calendar. Gently I remonstrated that Mrs. Winters would be hurt and disappointed, then pleaded I had to leave town that day, my tone implying deep distress.

And my distress was real, if Mrs. Winters was not. My editor wanted the truth on Madame and no fooling. She is the Peer (Peeress?) of her profession and we had to find out if she is bogus or real — too many people are spending good hard cash to hear her prognostications.

Madame capitulated.

REAL HEADLINER

When Helen Farlow and I arrived we found, as we might have expected, that her home is far more sumptuous than those of her competitors and that Madame herself, who is an attractive woman of about 40, was also far better dressed than the usual fortune teller.

This then, we thought, is the real headliner—the one who has "arrived," the girl who finally made the Palace.

Madame, it turned out, read palms or the crystal, but seemed to prefer palms.

There is no denying that Madame is good—she's so intelligent she nearly unmasked us. It was our first brush with a real artist at the game of extorting money while supposedly divining the future.

Her competitors are not even in the same league.

A brief look at my thickened finger tips and Madame was telling me that I write for a living. Her deductive processes are very logical and by watching her closely I could see the true things she was telling me were more due to exceptional intelligence than to anything she saw in my palm.

Now for the tests. Gently I hinted a few wrong facts about myself in answer to her clever prompting.

This was far from easy. Madame seemed genuinely puzzled. Her competitors prod you into giving tid-bits of information about yourself, but Madame needs far less to go on and I was treading on thin ice with my delicate hints.

Finally the pattern started to work and Madame went off the rails as easily as her less highly-paid sisters, proving her previous lightning deductions had been made with uncanny skill rather than psychic power.

But once off the track Madame's much vaunted and famed ability to deal with the supernatural collapsed completely.

PROVES ERRONEOUS

She proved, however, a redoubtable adversary.

Had I tried to deny, for instance, that my metier is writing, or any other true detail she hit on, she would have become instantly suspicious.

So I admitted all the things which were true but pleaded that my emotional state was such I could not discuss anything at all but the one matter worrying me.

After she swallowed that bait she was way out in left field. The "love" line, the "life" line, and all the other lines in my hand she was studying with such intensity, failed her altogether and the rest of her reading was just as erroneous as all the others we have submitted to in the course of this five-weeks investigation.

When I blurted my problem was trying to find out what has happen to my fiance (mythical) she made sure first that I had been advised he was listed "missing."

"It's difficult to ascertain what has really happened to him," she claimed. "But you should not despair. I don't seem to 'see' him dead. He may be ill, wherever he is, and can't write. But I'm positive he isn't dead."

DIFFERS FROM BREED

After a little prodding she went on record that I would hear from the Red Cross within three months about this man who does not even exist!

But Madame differed from her breed in one respect. Despite the fact she was collecting money from me under false pretenses, she tried to help me, which is considerably more than the other soothsayers who are getting rich by making heart-break pay.

She gave me excellent advice on how to bear my non-existent anguish. It was mostly the sort of sage counsel a good psychiatrist or family doctor might hand out to ward off hysteria during a personal crisis.

But there is no doubt that Madame can be fooled, proving her psychic power nil. Even if she does try to get her clients to face their personal tragedies with more courage, it's still not worth $2.

Intensely religious psychics will be discussed as this interesting series continues in tomorrow's Boston Evening American.

2 Firms Offer 50 Tons Paper

With a spurt in waste paper collections recorded since the day of invasion, two large Boston concerns today promised donations of 25 tons each in the salvage drive sponsored by the Advertising Club of Boston.

A total of 30 more tons has been turned over to Ad Club collectors just since D-Day, according to announcement by Paul W. Swaffield, chairman of the club's campaign.

Meanwhile, business houses with collections totalling 500 pounds were urged to contact the Ad Club so that city trucks can pick up the donations. Those who have lesser amounts are asked to deposit it in bins throughout the city or add it to the regular household collections in residential areas.

Regular collections will take place today in Dover, while collectors will be out tomorrow in Melrose, Walpole and the north section of Waltham. Brockton collects Sunday.

Legion Acts to Speed GI Bill

By FRANK REILLY
(Record-American Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, June 9—With the American Legion sponsors ready to accept any reasonable compromise, the joint Senate- House conference committee today strove to report out an acceptable GI Bill of Rights for veterans of World War II.

The hope for a speedy decision came after an all-day session of the conference committee with officials of the Legion and the Veterans' Administration.

The Legion, it was understood, had agreed to accept a compromise granting 40 weeks of unemployment compensation to GI Joes and Janes, reducing the 52-week compensation provided in the Senate-passed version of the bill, and increasing the 26-week compensation provided in the House-passed version.

There was also hope of an agreement on the controversial loan feature in which the Senate had voted loans up to $1500 interest free for two years, to veterans, and the House had voted loans of $2500 with no interest charge for two years and 3 per cent thereafter. A House bloc had insisted on provision to permit private banking interests to make the loans at 6 per cent.

'We Can Win' Still Motto Of Jive King and Gunner

By ALICE BISSELL

"Wotta jam session . . . look Sis, we can win this . . . Sis, we gotta win this!"

That, confidentially, was six years ago at Boston Garden when Jimmy Grinley, new 26, walked in with Sis, now Mrs. Marjorie Rivers, 25, mother of a 3-weeks old boy who is a namesake of her brother.

Jimmy and Sis, the children of Mrs. Katherine Grinley of River st., West Newton, went on to win the record-breaking jitterbug contest that was staged before 28,000 by the Boston Evening American.

Sergt. Grinley

Today Jimmy is operating one of those millimeter guns as a waist gunner in one of Uncle Sam's bombers in the invasion. Don't doubt for a minute but what Jimmy still has that will to win!

"Look, Sis, we can win this."

"Look, .50-calibre, we can win this."

Jimmy was a jitterbugging killer-diller back there in '38 in the Garden, but now he's proving his mettle in the greatest jam session in the history of the world.

A HIGHLAND LASSIE

A staff sergeant, he was in trim for D-Day after 25 missions of bombing Europe, for which he won the Air Medal and the Flying Cross.

Between missions he dreams of his ideal post-war world. In his dream there is just one addition to the old job of repairing golf clubs out at Brae Burn.

That will be a matter of a cute highland lassie who has promised to come over from Scotland after the war and marry him . . . Marjorie Martin of the British Air Corps, who Jimmy says is the best prize he ever won through dancing.

One night at a London canteen she was so entranced with the performance he was giving that she had an introduction. In a few weeks they were engaged.

Widowed for 23 years, Jimmy's mother is a lathe operator at a Cherry st., West Newton, war plant. Today, as she worked, she told her feelings on the morning of invasion.

WE KNELT AND PRAYED

"The night Jimmy won the contest, he cried like a baby with emotion. So did his sister. So did I. But we haven't cried at home about war, because we know Jimmy has to control his feelings in order to fight," she said.

MRS. KATHERINE GRINLEY
Holds Son's Air Medal

"I was getting ready for work when I heard the news. I lit a blessed candle in the sunny window. I called Marjorie. Her husband is an anti-aircraft gunner in the invasion. She brought her new baby, Jimmy, in her arms. We knelt and prayed. Then we went to work."

Only a year ago, Jimmy sent his wing home for a Mothers' Day gift. This year he sent her the following letter, last one written before the big drive:

"I guess there is a time in everyone's life that one wishes he or she could do better, not financially, but in the simple and good things. Yes, Mom, I sure do wish I were able to make up in some little way all the worry and heartaches I ever did give.

"Going through this over here has made me really appreciate you, and all I ever had back home. I have never stopped loving you."

Huge Prayer Rally Flag Day Feature

Boston's celebration of Flag Day Wednesday will be brought to an impressive climax on Boston Common with the greatest public outdoor prayer in the city's history.

The evening prayer ceremony will be held in conjunction with similar observances in which millions will take part in cities from coast to coast to plead for God's blessing on the nation's fighting men and commemorate the 167th anniversary of the United States flag.

COLORFUL PARADE

Mayor Tobin, head of the Flag Day Observance Committee, will be joined by a distinguished list of speakers including high ranking leaders of the armed forces and representatives of civic, veteran and fraternal organizations.

The vast prayer offering by the thousands attending will be led by Catholic, Protestant and Jewish chaplains.

The ceremony will follow a colorful military street parade and patriotic demonstration, including a pageant of the flag at the foot of Monument Hill.

INVITATION TO PARENTS

A special invitation has been issued by Mayor Tobin to mothers, fathers and families of men and women in the service to attend the ceremonies.

The parade preceding the exercises will start from Boylston and Exeter sts. and proceed along Boylston to Tremont st. to a point opposite Temple pl., where the marchers will turn into the Common and proceed along a path to the parade ground on Gen. MacArthur Mall.

Army, Navy, Marine and Coast Guard units will be in the line of march, as well as members of the State Guard, the Women's Defense Corps and veteran organizations with massed colors.

Lieut.-Col. John J. Riley of the 26th Regiment, State Guard, will be marshal with Maj. Frederick L. Jackson, chief of staff.

Defense Gains In Brockton Trial

BROCKTON, June 9—The trial of Stanley Kavalauskas, 27, charged with the murder of 54-year-old Mrs. Carrie L. Higgins, continued in Superior Court today after admission by Dr. Alan R. Moritz, state pathologist, that the injuries which brought death might have been caused by a fall.

This admission was brought out by Defense Counsel Eben G. Townes after Dr. Moritz, who performed an autopsy, had testified the victim's injuries were consistent with force.

"Could they have been caused by a fall of force?" Townes asked. The answer was "Yes."

Quarter-Century Club At Hovey's Banquets

The Quarter Century club of the C. F. Hovey Company held its annual get-together at the Parker House last night. Frank Shea was elected president; Marjorie Taber West, vice-president; William Purnell, treasurer; Mary Tracy, secretary. Four new members were admitted to the club. They were Anne Kelly, Winfred Fallon, Annie Jacobson and Loise Tappan.

Principal speaker at the banquet was Earl D. Warner, president of Hovey's.

Nazi Prisoners Reported Pessimistic About Victory

LONDON, June 9 (AP)—German prisoners were reported by Army guards today to be pessimistic about German chances of winning the war.

Sergt. Orie Yorkers of Midland Park, N. J., who talked with many, quoted one soldier as saying, "For us the war is over. For the German army it will be over in two months."

Most of the prisoners were from labor battalions which had been working on the Atlantic defenses. Many were unwilling helpers from the invaded nations — Belgians, Italians, Russians, Poles, French, and even Mongolians captured on the Russian front.

Pfc. Frank Weil, 54 Riverside drive, New York city, who speaks both German and Italian, acted as interpreter.

The Italians huddled by themselves in one corner of the enclosure in the prisoner of war camp and refused to mix with the Germans.

A German warrant officer, a Catholic priest who was conscripted into the medical corps, said, "I didn't start this war and I have no interest in it."

Eight German officers were stern and arrogant.

When lunch of tea and crackers came, they turned their backs, walked away and said "if you want us to eat, you'll have to bring us something better than that."

Springfield College To Be Vets' Center

SPRINGFIELD, June 9 — Famous as the world's greatest physical educational school, Springfield College will soon turn its facilities toward rehabilitating war veterans for the Navy.

Injured Woman Crawls for Aid

Mrs. Hulda Strom, 64, of Winnepurkit st., Lynn, broke her right leg in a stairway fall early today, then crawled 35 feet across the street before she could rouse neighbors to help her.

She had reached the top of a 12-stair flight to her front door, when she fell and tumbled down the stairs to the street.

There was no one n the house to help her, nor could she awaken neighbors with cries.

The injured woman finally managed to crawl to the door of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tanner. They called police. Patrolman Earl Donovan, student of osteopathy, applied a splint and removed her to Lynn Hospital.

Hospitals Count On Nurse's Aides

Boston hospitals are far from even minimum nursing staffs and must depend largely on Red Cross volunteer nurse's aides to carry the load, Marjorie B. Davis, chairman of the Massachusetts State Nursing Council for War Service, declared today, voicing the council's endorsement of the Red Cross drive to recruit 1000 new day nurse's aides.

"Our hospitals have not been able to replace the seven of ten nurses released for military service during the first two years of the war," she explained, adding that military nursing quotas must continue to be met while civilian hospital standards are maintained.

Mrs. Frank G. Allen, chairman of the Boston Chapter's Nurse's Aide Corps, appealed to volunteers to call KENmore 6226 at once or apply in person at Red Cross headquarters, 17 Gloucester st.

F. D.'s Health Is Best in Year

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt (age 62, weight 180) is in better health today than he has been for a year—that's the opinion of his doctor who told reporters:

"He's in better physical condition than the average man of his age."

Questions of war and politics are affected by the report.

The President has talked of a possible trip for a closer look at the war, and Democrats who have piled up more than enough convention votes to nominate him for 16 years in the White House have agreed that the state of his health would play a big part in what he does.

But the President is going to take it as easy as possible if the doctor, Vice-Adm. Ross T. McIntire, has his way. He'll get in as much swimming as possible, avoid lunch-time work and relax in the sunshine when it can be arranged.

McIntire told for the first time the full list of ailments that beset the Chief Executive last winter after his return from Teheran—flu, intestinal upset, a cold, sinus infection and acute bronchitis.

Gas Ration Racketeer Shot to Death in Car

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 9 (INS)—Frank C. Buttitta, described as a key racketeer in the distribution of counterfeit ration coupons in the Buffalo area, was dead today, victim of three bullets fired into his body as he sat in his battered car.

He was slain on the eve of a Federal Grand Jury investigation into the widespread distribution of the spurious coupons. Buttitta had been at liberty under $10,000 bail on charges of conspiracy and possession of the bogus stamps.

Big Bond Sale For Garden Fete

Boston banks and security houses today reported a brisk sale of war bonds, which is the requisite to get seats for Monday's staging at Boston Garden of a great show headed by Jack Dempsey and Gene Autry.

The great show "Direct Hit," starring Dempsey, a Coast Guard lieutenant and Autry, an Army sergeant, is an all-services musical revue, with Walter O'Keefe, radio, stage and screen actor, and Joan Edwards, Hit Parade star, in the supporting cast. Nearly 100 other talented Navy, Army, Marine and Coast Guard performers will be in the strictly GI cast, transferred from regular duties for the Fifth War Loan tour through New England.

Featured also in the show will be Donald Burr, musical comedy star, and Vivienne Winters, former John Powers model, now a WAVE. Tickets for the show may be obtained simply by purchase of a war bond of any Boston bank or securities dealer in Massachusetts. The show will be in Worcester Tuesday and Wednesday.

19 Screen Stars on Radio Bond Program

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Plans for "Civilian D-Day"—Monday—to touch off the Fifth War Loan Drive were unfolded by the Treasury today.

Spearhead of the $16,000,000,000 campaign will be ceremonies at Texarkana, on the border of Texas and Arkansas.

There Sec. Morgenthau and governors of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico will join in a day of activities climaxed by an hour-long radio program produced by actor-author Orson Welles.

Besides Welles, 18 stage, screen and radio stars will participate in the program starting at 10 p. m.

Joe E. Brown, Walter Huston, Danny Kaye, Keenan Wynn, Agnes Moorhead and Joseph Cotton will be in Texarkana for the occasion. Joining in the broadcast from Hollywood will be Lionel Barrymore, Charles Laughton, Paul Muni, Edward Arnold, Walter Pidgeon, Susan Hayward, Gloria Jean, Thomas Mitchell, Laird Cregar, Martha O'Driscoll, Jane Randolph and Ray Collins.

Monkeyshines Win Her Divorce

CHICAGO, June 9 (AP)—Mrs. Florence C. Meyers, 43, complained to superior court Judge John A. Sbarbaro her husband Wilbur, 49, insisted his trained monkey and dog sit at the table to eat with them as he considered them members of the family since they made his living by performances.

She also testified in her suit for divorce that for a time she was able to control the monkey by throwing a small stone at him. But the monkey soon picked up the trick and would throw stones at her.

Mrs. Meyers was granted a divorce on her charges of cruelty.

Farley Due to Lead Anti-FD Movement

By GEORGE R. BROWN
(Special to the Boston American)

WASHINGTON, June 9—The resignation of James A. Farley as chairman of the New York State Democratic Committee opens the way for him to become the spearhead of the protest movement against 16 years in the White House for President Roosevelt.

The movement is closely associated with the startling anti-New Deal movements within the Democratic party in Texas, South Carolina, Georgia and Mississippi.

The pattern now reveals that Farley was prominent in the move in those states against a fourth-term nomination for the President.

In some conservative Democratic circles here he is given credit for having invented the formula whereby use could be made of the constitutional provision of the electoral college to enable Southern Democrats to vote against Roosevelt and his Communist and Left Wing labor supporters in northern industrial centers, without voting for the Republican candidates for President and Vice-President.

GREATEST OPPOSITION

This is the most serious opposition within the Democratic party the President has ever faced.

The resignation, which frees Farley to oppose renomination of the President and to become an avowed candidate for President himself before the July national convention to which he will be a delegate, climaxes a number of recent political conferences he held with Democratic leaders in several Southern states.

Farley's withdrawal from all active participation in the Democratic campaign in New York this fall is believed to have followed an understanding with the conservative Democratic supporters of Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia and to foreshadow a switch in leadership of the anti-Roosevelt conservative Democrats from Byrd to Farley.

Dubinsky Gets Salary Raise, 4th Term

David Dubinsky today headed the International Ladies Garment Workers Union for the fourth time—and at an increased salary—following windup at Hotel Statler of one of the longest conventions held in Boston in years.

President for the last 10 years, Dubinsky was re-elected to a three-year term and given a $2500 pay boost to $12,500 yearly. The convention lasted two weeks.

The re-election of Dubinsky, who led the famous fight against Communist infiltration into the union ranks, came after 785 delegates, with only six dissenting, rejected proposals they participate in international labor conferences where Russian labor delegates also were present.

In a resolution adopted by the convention, delegates representing some 305,000 members of the union, asserted Russian labor unions "do not possess freedom of action from state domination, which are basic principles of free trade unions."

Earlier, the convention voted to raise a $2,000,000 war relief fund, with each member contributing at least one day's pay.

Weather Slows Growth of Crops

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head of Home Market Garden Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School, and Director of the Record-American-Advertiser Demonstration Garden on Boston Common.

Don't be too impatient because your crops are not coming up to expectations.

Remember that there has been no rain for 40 days and that the weather has been quite cold. The best three growing months are all ahead of you and it will not take long before there is an improvement.

SUCCESSION CROPS

For those early growers who have already harvested such crops as spinach, lettuce and radishes and have cleared the land of refuse, it will be good management to replant soon with another crop. A second planting of beets, or another row of beans will fit in well. This land still has some fertility left and should not be allowed to stand idle. If beans are planted they will not need extra fertilizer. Other crops should have a light application.

THIN BEETS, CARROTS

In visiting gardens this week I have noticed that many have not thinned their beets and carrots. Do not wait too long as delay in thinning means delay in harvesting.

In smaller gardens it is practical to thin partially at first and then use the larger beets and carrots as they mature.

Another crop that should be thinned as soon as the plants are two inches high is lettuce grown from seed. Head lettuce should be spaced about eight inches between plants and loose leaf about four inches. It is not too late to grow the loose leaf type such as Grand Rapids.

Bean beetle has appeared and already some gardeners are using arsenate of lead as a spray, with poor results. Arsenate of lead will burn bean foliage especially during the dry conditions existing at present.

Use magnesium arsenate for bean beetle control. Consult your local dealer to see what materials are available.

SAVE EXTRA SEED

Many Victory gardeners have more seed than they need. Do not throw it away or lose it as it will keep for another year, or may be planted this year. Store it in cans or jars in a cool dry place.

Plant a few peppers for variety. This crop is a hot weather crop and does not start to grow under field conditions until almost July. The plants do, however, start their roots now and should be set soon. Protect from flea beetle the same as tomatoes.

20 States Have Bricker Clubs

COLUMBUS, O., June 9 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker's headquarters announced that Bricker-for-President Clubs had been formed in 20 states.

T. H. Maenner of Omaha, Neb., who directed organization of the clubs in the campaign for the Republican nomination, said a committee also had been formed in Chicago.

Woman Dies Opening Graduation Concert

MONROE BRIDGE, June 9 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Reed, 60, collapsed and died last night as she was about to conduct a musical program at the Community school graduation exercises.

Exercises were cancelled and diplomas presented without ceremony. Instead, the Rev. Andrew Demasi of Readsboro, Vt., led the gathering in prayer for the woman who came here three years ago from Pittsfield.

...mproved Schools for Postwar Era

IT BODES WELL for the postwar future of the country that there has developed among educators a nation-wide interest in proposals to make the colleges and universities more practical.

With institutions of higher education temporarily virtually bereft of all male students, there will be need for reconversion of these cultural centers after the war.

In view of the critical problems of national reconstruction which will challenge young people, it is becoming self-evident that education for usefulness is in order.

The chief executive of a woman's college, President Bancroft Beatley of Simmons College, has aptly restated the objectives of the Hearst newspaper campaign for rehabilitation of our educational system.

"Colleges," he said, "will not be the same after the war, we may be sure. In the postwar world, colleges must bury the versus between liberal and vocational education."

This new urge is closely related to the goal of the late Herman Schneider, dean of the Engineering School of the University of Cincinnati, who pioneered in introducing the so-called co-operative system of education. Under that concept, theory and practice, culture and "know how" were wedded into a single curriculum. Students alternated in spending weeks on the campus and then equal intervals in paid jobs in factories, mercantile establishments, newspaper offices and elsewhere.

The exigencies of the world of tomorrow call for a universal application of the formula which Dean Schneider developed.

It is a hopeful sign that the top officials of numerous colleges have themselves expressed interest in reformation of courses in the realm of higher education.

A Sensible Decision

THE ARMY has definitely dropped the objectionable label "psychoneurotic" from the records of selectees rejected for nervous and mental reasons.

This is a sensible decision and a potentially beneficial one.

"Psychoneurotic" sounds forbidding to people in general, particularly to persons seeking competent employes.

No organization, not even the Army, has a right to impose a handicap upon an individual if the handicap can be avoided.

In most cases, "psychoneurotic" is only a fancy way of saying that a man is not suited for military service.

But, in all probability, the man might be eminently suited for civilian work—so eminently suited that ten years hence he may be giving a job to the person who once labelled him "psychoneurotic."

An Outstanding Bostonian

IN THE passing of Edward J. Frost, distinguished president of the William Filene's Sons Co., the State and nation lose one of their most valuable business leaders.

Mr. Frost was more than a successful American.

He was the kind of American who combined vision and enterprise to make life happier and more abundant for his fellowmen.

His character was reflected in the great establishment he headed and it also found expression in the numerous charitable and educational institutions with which he was long associated.

Though we mourn the absence of this good friend, we shall always have the satisfaction of knowing that his work endures and his accomplishments continue.

Washington Scene . . By George Dixon

WASHINGTON, JUNE 9—Mr. Eddie James, of Scranton, Pa., who seems to be a gruesome-minded fellow, but maybe a constructive thinker for all that, has come forward with a suggestion that we extend lend-lease to the cannibals of the Southwest Pacific.

I will admit that I approached this subject with considerable trepidation because I do not know how you feel about eating other folks. It is my understanding that there are certain local prejudices in this country against gnawing on a neighbor, and, if this is so, please believe that I respect everyone's right to choose their own menus.

Mr. James, who seemingly is troubled by no such provincialism, writes:

"You know how MacArthur is banging away in the South Pacific. We have heard that he is getting some assistance from the cannibal natives of the islands there.

"I believe he could get more if Lend-Lease were extended to these cannibals.

"According to the stories, these natives kill the Japs and eat them. Doesn't it seem logical that, if Lend-Lease in the form of refrigerators were extended, there would be a tendency to increase the number of Japs killed, inasmuch as they could be preserved for future use?

"With mechanical refrigeration and cold storage facilities, the natives could stock up for many months to come, thus aiding greatly in the war effort."

I SUPPOSE I will now get a bunch of anonymous letters pointing out that the cannibals are our Allies and that I have no business printing anything that might hurt their feelings. I hate to admit it, but, for the benefit of these potential critics, I must confess that practically all cannibals quit reading this column long ago.

In fact, I am informed that I do not have enough cannibals left to bother worrying about. This is distressing—but is it my fault, if they prefer reading the cooking and homemaking columns?

ACOUSTICS in the House of Representatives are very excellent, and, during debate on extension of price control yesterday, a strange, crackling, crunching sound arose above the voices of the orators.

Speakers would stop every now and then and look around, mystified. Reporters up in the press gallery were first to discover the solution.

The noise was being made by 80-year-old Rep. Robert L. ("Muley") Doughton, of North Carolina, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, who was sitting off in a corner.

The Honorable "Muley" was working industriously on a big bag of potato chips!

A LADY who is said to be in the newspaper business hereabouts and whose name—as I got it—is Mrs. Eleanor Medill Patterson, is sojourning at her Maryland place The Dower House in what might be called a state of extreme irkage.

Mrs. Patterson, who is called "Cissy" by Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth and others who call her friendly names, is the founder and sole support of the Maryland-Virginia Animal Rescue League.

This organization was created seven years ago to pick up stray pets, mainly dogs, and hold them until the anxious owners could claim them. The regular dog-catchers hold pets only 48 hours before destroying them.

Well, there has been a serious rabies scare in the Washington area in recent months. The two ambulances operated by Mrs. Patterson have been on the go, day and night.

The other afternoon, Dr. John M. Byers, health officer of Prince George's County, Md., asked if he could borrow one of the ambulances to check up on some rabies reports. Mrs. Patterson disentangled herself from a dozen or so poodles and graciously assented.

The next day, this Patterson-owned ambulance invaded the Patterson estate. It traversed about a mile of driveway, plastered with "no trespassing" signs, until it came to the house.

There, on the lawn, dozing in the sunshine, was a 14-year-old white poodle named "Lily," whose years sit heavily upon her.

The ambulance turned around and drove off. But that night a State Trooper rode up and handed Mrs. Patterson a summons, or plaster.

"This was sworn out by the county health officer," said the trooper, "It charges you with letting a white poodle loose around here without leash or muzzle!"

MRS. PATTERSON, after her temperature subsided 20 degrees, issued this statement for publication:

"This might be called a case of being hoist with your own petard. And, if you want to know what a 'petard' is, I have saved you the trouble by looking it up.

"A petard, according to Webster, is 'a case containing an explosive to be detonated against, and break in, or down gates, barricades, drawbridges, etc., to which it has first been attached. It is now rarely used.'"

On the Side . . . By E. V. Durling

It's spring time in England,
And for one who's far away
There's a dreadful hungry yearning
For the coming of "the day";
To see the village street,
To hear the chapel bell
And the sighing, longing wind
in the elms.

—A. R. ANNAKIN.

ABOVE is from "Springtime in England," written in 1943 in Tunisia. Three weeks after he wrote this poem 22-year-old Corp. Annakin was killed in action. He was an only child . . . After the war, women will be permitted, for the first time, to vote in France. This will be a wonderful thing for France. French women are much smarter than French men . . . A young old-timer is a man who remembers when there was a popular song titled "Why Can't a Girl Be a Soldier?" . . . Note in dispatches treating with entrance of United Nations troops into Rome the statue of Trajan is mentioned. Trajan was the Roman emperor who made his country so prosperous he was able not only to dispense with taxes but also to burn up all the books dealing with taxes due. How would you like to wake up some morning and see a headline: "No More Taxes to Pay! President Says the Government Has All the Money It Needs."?

FATHERS: Our better song campaign No. 987B seems to be getting nowhere fast. This calls for better father songs for Father's Day. Last time I brought this up many people called attention to the ditty, "Daddy, You've Been More Than a Mother to Me." That's a good song. But it refers to a widower who brought his daughter up successfully. It can't be used for all fathers. Other people pointed out the ballad tilted, "That Silver Haired Daddy of Mine." Another good song. But how about the fathers who have not reached the gray-haired stage? There are at least 100 good mother songs, so why haven't we more good father songs? What's the matter with those Tin Pan Alley song writers? Don't they love their fathers?

Copyright, 1943, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

"Well, so what's wrong with just layin' around? Ain't it better'n doin' nothing?"

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—You have quoted the remarks of many men as to women. How about giving us a few observations on horses? You know those horses are hard to figure. A—This seems a reasonable request. Well, sir, it was James Fitzsimmons who said: "There are 69 ways a favorite can lose a horse race." It was the fifth Marquis of Queensbury who observed: "Never bet on a mare in the spring." In one of his letters to his son, Lord Chesterfield wrote: "My boy, you must keep in mind that race courses are not conducted for your benefit." Stated "Chicago" O'Brien: "It is not true that I bet favorites to show. I bet the solid horse to show whether the favorite or not."

MONORAILS: Promised for the postwar period in the United States is the monorail. The question arises, why didn't we have the monorail in the prewar period? The monorail system between Elberfeld and Vowinkel in Germany started in 1921. Up to 1939 this system had carried more than 500,000,000 passengers without a fatal accident. These German monotrains traveled at a speed of 125 miles an hour. A monotrain runs much smoother than one with a surface track. I think the commuters of the country should get the first break with the monorails.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: The great majority of those fighting this country's battles now are little more than boys. That's the way it always has been. When Nathan Hale died for his country he was only 21.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 9—"The Fabulous Invalid," which I remember seeing on the New York stage six years ago, has been bought by Charles Koerner from its authors, George Kaufman and Moss Hart.

Charley paid $35,000, which is a very fair price for a play that has been on the shelf for these many years. Yet not too much for the ideas it offers for an RKO musical comedy.

While I'm on the subject of RKO, I am told the story Marc Connolly is writing from the birthday greeting card is intended for Cary Grant and not Gary Cooper as we stated. Furthermore, it is said Marc has written an excellent treatment which Cary read and liked.

WALTER WANGER has a flair for Oriental fantasies and is happiest when he is going back into history a few thousand years for his data. I had a talk with him and he tells me his next, "A Night in Paradise," in addition to having those two promising young people, Turhan Bey and Louise Allbritton, will have the character of Aesop represented. Yep, he means the Greek writer who wrote "Aesop's Fables" so many years ago. The story is taken from George S. Hellman's novel. "Peacock's Feather," and is being adapted by Emmett Lavery. The other Wanger story, "Salome, Where She Dances," is to have an unknown star. Says Walter: "The search is already on for the girl."

COMDR. JACK BOLTON said today that every available camera in both the Army and Navy is being utilized to photograph the invasion. It is his opinion these newsreels will be shown in the theaters not later than next week. He said that, undoubtedly, films are being flown to Washington every day now, and that all the newsreels would pool their shots so that America could get the very best bird's-eye view of the greatest military movement of all time. Comdr. Bolton also added that John Ford and 50 members of his photographic unit were taking part and he has an idea that Lieut.-Comdr. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Capt. Gene Markey were not far away.

WALTER WINCHELL is letting his daughter, Walda, decide for herself whether she wants to be an actress or not. Walda is having tests made at 20th Century-Fox, and if she decides she wants to be an actress she'll remain here and have her screen career. She is an extremely pretty girl and very photogenic, and has more sense than most girls twice her age. I asked her if she was going to take the stage name of Joan Eden. She hasn't decided. But, whatever she does, she wants to get on her own and not because papa is a big shot. I think her independence secretely tickles Walter, but he'd just as soon she'd forget the movies.

THERE'S THE BEST chance in the world that Lily Pons and Andre Kostolanetz will have the honor of being the first artists to entertain for the invasion forces. The opera singer and her conductor-husband are already in Iran, and when they quietly left this country several weeks ago they received a promise: If the invasion started they would be rerouted to the fighting fronts. Lily and Andre just finished a tour through Persia, and now they are impatiently waiting the orders that will take them, as soon as military security permits, to the coast of France.

IT'S ALWAYS lucky for anyone whom Katharine Hepburn happens to like. She arranged so that John Lardner, son of Ring, and Garson Kanin's younger brother, two unknowns, were paid $100,000 for "Woman of the Year," their original script. Now she smiles on Harold S. Bucquet. He was co-director with Jack Conway on "Dragon Seed," and she asked that he direct her and Spencer Tracy in "Without Love." Needless to say, Katie got her way.

KAY SWIFT, author of "Who Could Ask for Anything More," has a sense of humor. When her name came out "Smith" instead of Swift in our column, she said: "Well, I was probably mixed up with Betty Smith, who wrote 'A Tree Grows in Brooklun' or with Lillian Smith, author of the best selling 'Strange Fruit,' so, that's not so bad." Her own story title came from the George Gershwin song "I've got Rhythm," which you'll remember, runs something like this: "I've got rhythm, I've got music, I've got my man, who would ask for anything more?"

JAMES HILTON, the British novelist, has been signed to write the adaptation of "Cluny Brown." I must say I am intrigued with the character of Cluny and I haven't read a story in a long time that I enjoyed so thoroughly. Hilton is a very good selection to tell the story of Miss Cluny, for he is English-born and will understand the lady, whose uncle is a plumber, and who is put into service because of her many admirers. But, who to play Cluny is the moot question. I hear through the underground that Darryl Zanuck put in a bid for the services of Wendy Hiller, who would be perfect.

Plastic Now Used As Radar Seal

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—A new plastic which replaces rubber and seals radar and other electrical parts to make them completely moistureproof was announced here today by the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co.

Two other new plastics were announced. One is both easy to form into complex shapes and is also very strong, with the tensile strength of structural steel. The third plastic stretches while hot. This is an advantage during molding.

Greece Ignores Reds

CAIRO, June 9 (AP)—After waiting 17 days for the Communists and the organizations they control inside Greece to nominate representatives for his proposed national unity government, Premier George Papandreou announced today the formation of a cabinet without them.

Maine Major Leads Heroic Raid on Truk

AN ADVANCED U. S. SOUTH PACIFIC AIRBASE, June 6 (AP) (Delayed)—Both victory and death rode with a small formation of badly battered American Liberator bombers as they returned from a raid on the Japanese Truk base June 2.

Sieved with bullet holes and carrying three dead and four wounded, the damaged Liberators staggered back to their base safely over 900 miles of ocean after leaving Dublon Town, in the Truk atoll, in flames and destroying at least 10 Japanese planes.

Brig. Gen. William A. Matheny of the 13th AAF Bomber Command called it "the most heroic and effective raid for its size ever to hit Truk."

Maj. C. T. Voss of Farmington, Me., led the Liberator formation.

More than 20 Japanese fighters and dive-bombers jumped the Liberators as they roared in close to their target. For a half hour the Japanese aviators used machine-gun bullets and phosphorus bombs in unsuccessful attempts to break up the American formation.

The bomber gunners destroyed 10 of the Japanese attackers and registered several probables.

One Zero dived to within 200 yards of the Liberator piloted by First Lieut. C. B. Baldwin of Houston, Tex. His nose gunner, Staff Sergt. Charles J. Wolfe of Milford, O., put 20 rounds into the enemy plane and the Japanese pilot bailed out. The plane blew up in full view of Sergt. Melvin B. Milber of Longview, Tex.; Staff Sergt. Victor Van Boorne of Lawrence, Mass., and Bombardier Second Lieut. Stanley R. Foreman, Fresno, Cal.

Churchill's 'Nephew' Taken, Nazis Claim

By the Associated Press

The German high command, in its communique broadcast today, said British Lieut.-Col. Tom Churchill, described as commandant of the island of Lussino in the Adriatic, had been taken prisoner. Berlin identified Churchill as a nephew of the British prime minister.

Maj. Randolph Churchill, son of the prime minister, is in Yugoslavia, but he was last reported on the mainland. London dispatches said nothing was known about a Tom Churchill.

85,000 Wardens Wait Raid Test

The most realistic air raid test yet undertaken in Massachusetts will find 85,000 air raid wardens parolling the streets of approximately 60 communities throughout the state Sunday.

Although only cities and towns in the Greater Boston civilian defense area are scheduled to be "targets" of more than 250,000 paper "bombs," many other communities plan to mobilize their ARP personnel.

In addition to the 43 cities and towns in the Greater Boston area, others taking part in the raid test will be Brockton, Taunton, New Bedford, Fall River, Lynn, Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill, Leominster, Fitchburg, Greenfield, North Adams, Framingham, Worcester, Pittsfield and Springfield.

First Ceilings Placed On More Fruits

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration today established price ceilings for the first time for fresh apricots, plums, sweet cherries and Italian prunes. The schedule, it said, will mean retail prices 15 to 35 per cent under last year's.

Other fresh fruits to be brought under price control soon include pears, peaches and the 1944 crop of table grapes, OPA said.

'Potato Runs'

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—American fighter pilots flying over Bougainville are spraying Japanese victory gardens.

Spraying them, that is, with fuel oil, light bombs and incendiaries, reports Lieut. James A. Kelly of the Marines from the Southwest Pacific.

Kelly wrote that the sprayings, which the pilots call "potato runs," are designed to keep the Japanese from making up on a shortage of the food they need to keep on fighting.

OPA Condemns Store Nylon Clubs

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—"Nylon priority clubs" were condemned by the Office of Price Administration today.

OPA says some stores are offering such schemes as a pair of rayon, lisle or cotton bought now. A typical set-up gives a customer a nylon priority card to be punched for each purchase of wartime hose. Some stores agree not to sell nylons of the future publicly until the priority purchasers get first chance at them.

OPA says consumers don't have to join nylon clubs to get nylons when they become available, and labels the priority clubs illegal.

Invasion

of parachutists earlier reported landed on the west coast 20 miles from Ste. Mere Eglise in an effort to pinch off the tip of the peninsula and its port of 36,000 inhabitants.

Ten German divisions now are engaged, supreme headquarters said, while the Germans said up to 20 Allied divisions had been thrown in.

The Allied command was silent on the battle for Caen—a town of 61,000 population. Caen was described as a pivot of German defenses.

The Germans said the Allies had penetrated five miles below and six miles west of fallen Bayeux, and said Allied beachheads had been strengthened. The Nazi high command claimed gains east of the Orne.

TREE-TO-TREE BATTLE

One front dispatch said Americans now hold a beachhead five miles deep on a broad scale, with smaller penetrations several miles farther inland. U. S. parachute troops captured one town, it said, and infantrymen drove the Nazis from another. Much of the fighting was waged on a tree-to-tree and ditch-to-ditch basis, it added.

Other front reports said, "it is becoming the most involved battle with local retreats and advances having a very definite effect on the general plans both of our commanders and the enemy. Both are seizing every chance to drive in a wedge when there is the slightest faltering.

RAF night bombers hammered German supply rails behind the Normandy Peninsula.

"Landings have continued on all beaches, and by-passed strong points of enemy resistance are being steadily reduced," said invasion communique No. 7.

BATTLE ON FOR CAEN

An official announcement here said 10 German divisions now were in action in Normandy. Axis broadcasts have asserted between 15 and 20 American, British and Canadian divisions have been landed.

A communique last night, the sixth issued by Gen. Eisenhower since the invasion began, said British and Canadian troops were making continued progress and that American bridgeheads on the west were being gradually enlarged.

"The enemy is fighting fiercely," said the communique.

The tank battles, in progress since late Wednesday, apparently flared over most of the stretch between Caen and Bayeux—a flat region described as excellent for armored warfare. Rocket-firing Allied planes dipped low west of Caen yesterday and hit the Nazi armor.

In a report from the front last night, Ross Munro, Canadian Press war correspondent, said Canadian infantry and tanks had advanced swiftly through wooded farmlands and forced the Germans from a dozen Normandy towns, sometimes after stiff house-to-house fighting.

Axis reports said Allied forces were five miles beyond Bayeux, captured two days ago by the British, in a drive to sever the Cherbourg peninsula and gain possession of Cherbourg's dock facilities—described by the Paris radio as Eisenhower's first objective.

CAEN STRONGLY HELD

Munro's dispatch said Caen still was strongly held by the Germans.

A Vichy broadcast said Allied troops who occupied Bayeux were advancing against strong German resistance toward Carentan.

Supreme headquarters disclosed that American doughboys, possibly those in the western area of the bridgehead, were fighting for a lateral road, but its location was not given.

Canadians plunging southward east of Bayeux could see the Germans ahead assembling for new efforts. A dispatch said the Canadians there late yesterday were bracing themselves for an expected counter-attack after having fought off one fierce probing thrust.

In that attack, Germans sent 30 to 35 tanks at a time into action, but Canadian infantry, strongly supported by their own tanks and massed artillery, drove them off.

Allied forces already have engaged at least two German motorized divisions

Yank Hit by Own Naval Shell

BY E. V. ROBERTS

AN AMERICAN ARMY HOSPITAL IN ENGLAND, June 9 (INS)—Wounded Americans are trickling across the channel with shell wounds and burns and broken bones.

I talked to some of the 85 brought in here today. Most amazing story was told by a curly-headed kid from Brooklyn—member of a Navy demolition squad—whose job was blowing up beacn obstacles. He landed ten minutes ahead of schedule and because of that he got caught in the naval barrage. Shrapnel got him in the legs and shoulder.

"I would have got it worse but I had a pack of high explosives on my back," he said. "The shell landed five feet from me and most of it went on my pack."

Lindbergh Teaches Marines in Pacific

DETROIT (INS)—Charles A. Lindbergh is flying a P-47 Thunderbolt fighter plane in the combat area of the Gilbert Islands, a letter from a marine pilot revealed.

Lindbergh, former Army colonel and now on leave from the Ford Motor Co., where he was employed as an aviation engineer, is teaching marine combat fliers tricks of high altitude flying

Warn Fishermen Off Europe Coast

LONDON, June 9 (AP)—Allied high command broadcasts warned Atlantic shore peoples from France to Norway not to fish in their coastal waters for one week beginning today, so they will "not hinder operations of the Allied forces."

These instructions went out from London and North African stations as the German commentator, Martin von Hallensleben, wrote that the Germans were on the alert for invasions on northern coasts. Hallensleben said German reconnaissance had observed "great concentrations of shipping in English ports farther north, including the Bristol Channel, the Irish Sea and Scotland."

Art Expert Denies Bad Damage to Rome

NAPLES, June 9 (AP)—Lieut. Frederick Hartt of New York city, AMG historical art expert, said today there was "no basis for German accusations of extensive damage to Rome's cultural and religious monuments."

Despite the fact that the Mediterranean Allied Air Force dropped 2000 tons of bombs on rail targets in Rome during 16 attacks and also hit nearby airdromes, Hartt said only the San Lorenzo basilica and the wall of the Anglo-Saxon Protestant Cemetery were damaged.

KILLED IN ITALY — Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kyriacos of Roxbury have been notified by the War Department that their 19-year-old son, George, an infantry private, has been killed in action in Italy.

Capture of Cherbourg Would Give Allies Edge

By De WITT MacKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst

We are at a dangerous stage of the invasion of Cherbourg peninsula. The superb Allied forces already landed are getting ahead with their job in business-like fashion, but the operation has been handicapped by bad weather. We are not, as I see it, as far ahead in the initial drive as we would have been with smooth seas and fair skies.

This means, of course, the enemy has gained precious time in getting set for his all-out counter-attack which is in the making. It means the Allies have their work cut out for them to get ready for this crucial onslaught, which Rommel is likely to speed up.

From the start invasion forces have been handicapped by the weather. Troops and supplies have been landed with great difficulty because of high seas.

What the Allies need most is a port through which could be poured endless forces and the mountains of supplies which are vital for the breaching of Hitler's so-called Atlantic Wall. By the way, the main defenses of that "Atlantic Wall" are not, as a lot of people seem to think, on the seashore. They are well inland and the Allied high command has said they are formidable.

The great port of Cherbourg—one of the world's finest—would be a godsend to the Allies right now, and the signs are they are aiming at its early capture.

The Germans say—and I see no reason to challenge their word—several big Allied invasion fleets are ready to sail from various points in the British Isles. Some may be intended to feed the Cherbourg operation. Or they may be set for new amphibious assaults. That's the big worry of the Hitlerites.

These early days of the invasion are the ones on which Hitler is gambling to produce a fluke which may give him a negotiated peace instead of unconditional surrender. He knows that, barring some freak of fortune, he is beaten. This is his last long-shot gamble.

Reporter a Prisoner?

LONDON, June 9 (AP)—The German radio said today that James W. Lee of Oklahoma, whom it identified as a war correspondent for the Jewish Telegraph Agency of New York, had been taken prisoner—presumably in France.

Air Score!

LONDON, June 9 (AP)—The Eighth Air Force reports that on the first day of the Allied invasion of northern France it did the following:

Detroyed 429 railway cars, shot up 372 military vehicles, wrecked 25 locomotives, bombed 14 bridges, attacked 35 railroad yards and damaged one tunnel, two warehouses, three factories, two oil tanks, seven military encampments, one overpass and 10 flak cars.

Umberto in First Talk Urges Allied Support

ROME, June 9 (AP)—Crown Prince Umberto today called upon all Italian soldiers, sailors and airmen to redouble their efforts at prosecuting the war at the side of Allied troops.

Only through Allied victory will the Italian people have opportunity to justify themselves and reassume their rightful position among the peoples of the world, he said.

It was Umberto's first public statement since returning to Rome as lieutenant general of the realm.

THE PRIME OF LIFE CAN BE PROLONGED

Dr. Henry G. Sherman Says:

"A generous supply of Calcium results in better development of the young, a higher form of adult health, and a longer lease of what we may call the prime of life—the period between maturity and old age."

FOOD RATIONING MAY NOT SUPPLY SUFFICIENT CALCIUM SAYS CLAUDE WICKARD, U. S. Secretary of Agriculture.

Calcium is more often deficient in the diet than any other mineral. Calcium deficiency is a form of malnutrition that may be the cause of acidity, nervousness, fatigue, weakened heart muscles and other effects which hasten the onset of "OLD AGE" and shorten the "PRIME OF LIFE."

AM I NERVOUS?

Sleeplessness with ragged, jagged nerves, may be due to a calcium deficiency which upsets the parathyroid glands causing intense sensitivity of the whole nervous system.

DO I TIRE EASILY?

A calcium starved body tires easily. A calcium deficiency may cause an upset nerve system, less strength, energy and vitality. No person can be normal without a sufficient supply of calcium.

AM I OLD AT 40?

Old at 40, evidences of early aging, perhaps at 50 or 60, may be due to calcium deficiency. Calcium is needed, in adequate amount, in the repair and growth of body organs, tissues, cells. If your health is impaired, if you are run down, tired, old at 40 and nervous because you do not get enough Calcium or Phosphorus or Vitamin D or Vitamin B1 add KAL to your diet. See how much better you feel after KAL helps to build up, then maintain a normal Calcium-Phosphorus balance and help overcome the ill effects of a deficiency of the vital elements KAL so richly supplies.

Invasion Army World's Best

By AUSTEN LAKE

Now begins the major crisis for our troops on the Normandy beachheads, the moment when the first anesthesia of excitement begins to wear off and fatigue sets in. For our front line soldiers have been under more than 72 hours of the greatest nerve-strain and exhaustion that can test human power of resistance—in many cases without relief, with little or no sleep and subsisting on the barest of dry rations.

Americans are fighting two foes today, Hitler's fluid pool of reserves and physical fag.

The U. S. Command expected this! The soldiers knew it, too.

Months ago the writer stood on a fogbound moor in the black, moist wilderness of England, a training center where a company of U. S. infantry were sprawled momentarily on the heather. They were nearing the end of a week-long hike under 40-pound packs.

They were unshaved, unwashed, hungry and red-eyed. For six days they had been on 24-hour duty, tramping interminably, eating their dry, unpalatable rations, going on a minimum of water, catching a few winks of sleep in soggy clothes. And they knew that after a few days of "rest"—the kind of rest that wouldn't fit with civilian standards, they'd do it all over again. As indeed they had been doing it for eight months.

Most of the men were too weary or too nerve-numbed to grumble. But a few thought it "damn foolishness" and said so covertly from the corners of their months, as is the eternal way of soldiers.

Their company commander, his own eyes charred from fatigue, called with a harsh voice, made more husky by the fog: "Give me your attention, men."

"Maybe some of you think this a waste of energy. But some day we're going into the big shove. You'll have to fight for days and nights, maybe for weeks, without any relief. You'll have to hang on even when you think your last ounce of strength is spent. You won't get drinking water and maybe very little food. And you'll give ten years of your life for an hour's sleep. But the success or failure of the whole war may depend on your guts and stamina, to keep on going against a fresher enemy. That's why we're doing this."

So inland from the French beaches these same men—graduates of the most intensive combat school in history—are putting their learning to account. They are holding on against double odds as German reserves rush from the rear in increasing hordes and while the prediction made by the young company captain have come to pass, the nervous exhilaration of the early fight has passed, and they are burrowed in ("you'll have to fight for days and nights without relief").

Meanwhile behind them, feverishly, the Allied command is bringing in fresh reserves, divisions of other hard-jawed youths who will finally take their places. But the shift is not to be made quickly or with the orderly precision of training times. In the early, often uncharted disorder of a changing line, there can be no prompt relief schedules. The original landing force has to crouch, creep and hand out more punishment than they take ("keep on going against a fresher enemy").

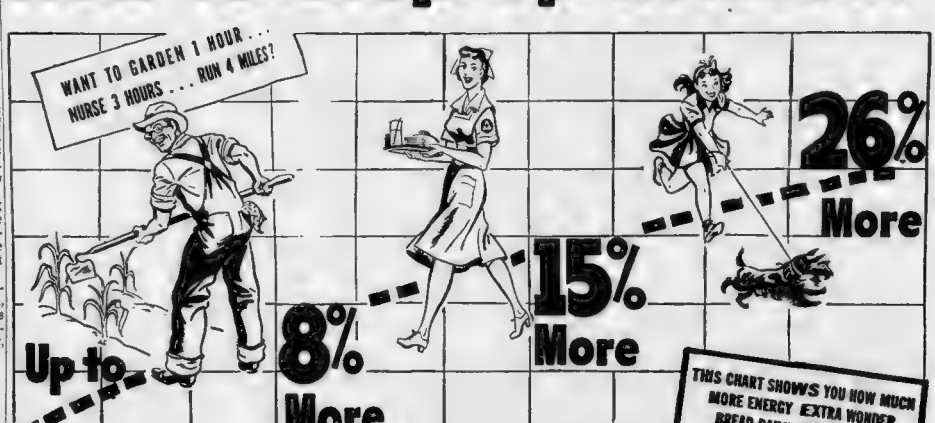
How to Step Up ENERGY



How This Energy-Charged Wonder Bread Can Give You All The Extra Energy You Want

Contains Vitamins of the B Complex and Iron Your Body Needs To Help Get All The Energy Out of It

As you know, energy comes only from the food you eat. Thus, to get more energy—eat more energy food.

To get energy out of food, Nature must have the help of Vitamins B_1 and B_2 and Iron.

The two vitamins help to oxidize the food in the cells to get the energy out of it. The iron in your blood acts to bring the oxygen to the cells.

Study the chart. Then eat the extra number of slices of energy-charged Wonder Bread every day to get the extra amount of energy you want.

GET VITAMINS, IRON

When you eat energy-charged Wonder Bread you know it contains Vitamins B_1 and B_2 and Iron which you know are necessary to help Nature transform it into energy properly.

And only Wonder Bread is sold under $1,000 guarantee of continual tests of Vitamin B_1 content.

Only WONDER BREAD Makes This $1,000 Vitamin B_1 Guarantee

Regular laboratory tests of typical loaves of Wonder White Bread show an average Vitamin B_1 content substantially in excess of the minimum requirements as recommended for bread by the Federal Food and Drug Administration.

We will pay $1,000 to any charitable organization named by the citizen of the United States first to disprove the above statement.
Continental Baking Co., Inc.

DOUBLY FRESH

In addition, energy-charged Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it, fresh when you eat it.

Because Wonder Bread is slo-baked—13% longer than many ordinary kinds for lasting freshness.

For extra energy, eat extra slices of energy-charged Wonder Bread every day. Serve your husband and children extra Wonder Bread, too.

Get Wonder Bread fresh from your grocer today. You'll be glad you did.

THIS CHART SHOWS YOU HOW MUCH MORE ENERGY EXTRA WONDER BREAD DAILY CAN GIVE YOU

	4 SLICES	6 SLICES	8 SLICES
MAN (154 lbs.) Moderately Active	8.6%	12.9%	17.2%
WOMAN (123 lbs.) Moderately Active	10.4%	15.6%	20.8%

Weds at Trinity

HAPPINESS HAS COME once again to attractive Mrs. Janet Pierce Johnson, Boston society girl who was widowed a year and a half ago when her young husband lost his life in the Pacific.

Today she becomes the bride of Lieut. William Herbert Brown, Jr., USNR, of Portland, Me., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown and a graduate of Bowdoin, class of 1939.

The small family wedding takes place in the chapel of Trinity Church.

Janet is the widow of Lieut. Perry Higginson Johnson of Boston, to whom she was married at a fashionable wedding in the spring of 1941. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walworth Pierce of Bay State rd., a graduate of May School and one of the prettiest and most popular debs of 1938-39.

JANET PIERCE JOHNSON—Weds in Trinity ceremony today.

She is a sister of Lieut. Wallace L. Pierce, USNR, who is overseas, and of Mrs. Donald McKellar, Jr., of Brookline.

"BO" EDDY of Beacon st., whose wedding to Lieut. Charles F. Willis 3d is set for tomorrow night at King's Chapel, has been on pins and needles all week but finally received word yesterday that Charlie will be able to get here on schedule for their date at the altar.

Last evening the vivacious blonde bride received a heap of presents for her trousseau at a personal shower given by bridesmaid Eleanor Pingree at the Algonquin Club. In addition to the pre-wedding parties we've already mentioned there's to be a bridal luncheon tomorrow given by Mr. and Mrs. David J. Post of Hartford, uncle and aunt of the bride.

Met War Bond Premiere For 'Story of Dr. Wassell'

Co-operating with the Treasury Department in the Fifth War Loan campaign, the Metropolitan Theater has scheduled a special war bond premiere of Cecil B. DeMille's "The Story of Dr. Wassell," starring Gary Cooper and Laraine Day, to be held Monday evening, June 19.

Admission will be by war bond purchase only, with free tickets issued to bond purchasers at any of the following downtown theaters: Metropolitan, Paramount, Fenway, Washington st. Olympia, Scollay, Modern, Keith Memorial, RKO-Boston, and Loew's State and Orpheum.

"The Story of Dr. Wassell," hailed as Cecil B. De Mille's greatest film, is based on the heroic deeds of Comdr. Corydon M. Wassell, the former Arkansas country doctor who won the Navy Cross for the feat of evacuating nine men from Java to Australia.

Produced and directed by Cecil B. De Mille, "The Story of Dr. Wassell" has been filmed in Technicolor and also features Signe Hasso, Carol Thurston, Dennis O'Keefe and Stanley Ridges.

'Gaslight' Chiller Thrills State, Orpheum Patrons

By PEGGY DOYLE

"Gaslight," Metro's plushy chiller that has been made from the enduring Broadway melodrama, "Angel Street," is currently proving an almost unbearably terrifying and suspenseful experience for audiences at Loew's twin theaters.

It would be difficult to bracket a more provocative trio of stars than Ingrid Bergman, Charles

By INGRID BERGMAN

Boyer and Joseph Cotten, whose names are a triple threat to box-office and attendance records. And, not sparing the horses in this Victorian foray back to the London hansom cab days, the studio has further distinguished the cast by including Dame May Whitty and Barbara Everest in supporting roles.

Altogether, "Gaslight" is the caviar of chillers and, except for a few incurable "Angel Street" addicts like your film reporter, is likely to win hands down in the play versus movie voting. George Cukor, a Metro ace, has done a brilliant job of direction, building up a climax designed to shatter your nerves and give you a frightwig.

Something new has been added in the film version, but the mysteriously dimming gas jets, the disappearing knick-knacks, the frightening knock-knock on the bedroom ceiling, the sly maneuvering to throw doubt on Mrs. Manningham's sanity have been retained.

Miss Bergman is at her best as the lovely lady whose seemingly loving spouse misses no psychological trick to drive her daft. Boyer, unaccustomed as he is to playing a villain, is a convincing blend of charm and cupidity. Joseph Cotten, as the detective whose keen memory for a face saves Mrs. Manningham from madness, even death, indicates a brighter future for poor Mrs. Manningham. This is required screen practice. Cotten gives a good performance, but excuse it please if we preferred Ernest Cossart's more flavorful Scotland Yards man in the stage version.

Dame Whitty's deliciously droll playing of the Manninghams' nosey neighbor and Miss Everest's deaf but quietly observant housekeeper are gems. There is nice work, too, by Angela Lansbury as a breezy housemaid.

Rose Revue Gay, Tuneful, Funny

By DON WARD

A preview of what we can expect when the GI Johnnys and Joes come marching home is adding to the gayety of the week at the RKO-Boston, where Billy Rose's highly decorative "Diamond Horseshoe Revue" is the news of the week.

There are—of course there would be — bevies of beauties. There's a preview of Broadway, Paris, Vienna and a bang-up victory ball. And there's Johnny Burke, in the wrap-around puttees and the funny-looking trench coat of World War I, to contribute the grandest brand of nonsense you'd ask for.

On the laugh side, too, there's Ken Whitmer, looking like the absent-minded professor, umbrella and all. It develops hilariously that the bumbershoot is a flute, his cigar is an ocarina, his fiddle breaks into firecrackers, and that, once all that slapp-happy business is over, he can really make with the trombone and clarinet like the Dorsey and Goodman boys.

For beauty and ballet, there's Boston's little Pauline Knox, whose toes twinkle all over the place

Another surprise-surprise on the new program is the oh-so-drunk comedy act Frank and Jean Hubert put on.

'Harvest Moon' at the Met

And now comes "Shine On, Harvest Moon," latest in that apparently endless chain of button-shoe, picture-hat musical charades. Presently unreeling its 111-minute length on the Metropolitan screen, this Warners' film is alleged to telescope the highlights in the stage careers of the late Nora Bayes and J. Norworth.

But, don't you ever believe it. Ann Sheridan and Dennis Morgan never let you forget that they are just masquerading in period costumes, their impersonations as unfailingly synthetic as the prop moon that shines on their title-song number.

It's the same old tired plot that has faithfully served the Grable, the Hayworth and the Faye, with its boy and girl love, marry and split up over another woman who never was or could be the only one. Somehow, from what we've heard tell the celebrated Bayes-Norworth song team was a vivid, vital combination. Too bad, none of this sparkle and zest comes through in this routine song-and-dance piece.

Miss Sheridan was never meant for vocals, nor has Morgan the personality to put over the dashing Norworth characterization. S. Z. Sakall, that fine actor, is called upon to do a carbon copy of the English-muddling Broadway agent he has done so well. P. D.

Beauty — Perfect Skin Cleanser; Easy to Use — Fashion

MODERN GLAMOROUS MAKEUP is only as good as the proper basic care which precedes it . . . and achieves facial perfection if the sub-surface skin is cared for tenderly and devotedly for lasting beauty. A friction wash will keep your complexion thoroughly clean and healthy for the beauty veneer to follow . . . and help you acquire facial attractiveness like that of dynamic Paramount Star Barbara Stanwick.

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

WHEREVER YOU GO . . . wherever there are women . . . you've probably never seen more perfectly made up faces than those of lovely American women. But, what of the skin beneath this flawless camouflage?

Your "cover-all" makeup may look very glamorous for a while . . . but you cannot always hide a sallow, coarse-textured, neglected skin . . . despite temporary successful attempts to cover up complexion faults. If beauty is to be more than skin deep . . . we must mind what goes on under that smooth veneer . . . lest Johnny comes marching home to find us prematurely aged and wrinkled . . . with lifeless facial coloring and a dull skin.

A dynamic beauty authority . . . pioneer in the cosmetic industry . . . once told me that years of experience left her with the conclusion that most women do not understand their own skins. They don't understand that fine lines usually betray a dry condition . . . that large pores go with an oily skin.

If your skin has a dewy look, a soft, smooth exquisite texture like a child's skin, you have a normal skin. But how many of them are there in this world? Most of us gals must achieve complexion loveliness the hard way.

RUB LATHER OVER FACE AND NECK

As refreshing as it is efficient is a friction wash which this cosmetician originated early in her career . . . and which has been one of the choice beauty aids in her vast line. It is the perfect cleanser for nine out of ten oily skins . . . and simple to use, too. Merely mix a few of the tiny beauty grains with warm water right in the palm of your hand and then rub the lather all over your face and neck.

See how it dissolves dead, beauty-dimming cuticle, and washes away pore-clogging accumulations. See how it wakes up that sluggish facial circulation and leaves your skin aglow.

In hot, sticky days, your face will feel as cool and clean as a cucumber.

For the name of this beauty-invoking friction wash, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

BE AS PRETTY AS A cover girl . . . in this linen textured-spun rayon dress . . . styled for coolness and comfort. A white yoke . . . trimming faggoted to the body of the frock . . . and the white buttoned-down-the-front panel . . . distinguish the frock as smart and interesting. Cover Girl Anita Colby wears a white straw curvette and white gloves to complete the summertime costume—R. M.

Wedding Menu Tips

By MARTHA LEE

WEDDINGS TODAY are often planned on very short notice, for furloughs are quite unpredictable and wait for no man—or woman. It is quite possible to arrange a charming and effective wedding and reception right in your own home without the services of a caterer.

The refreshments you serve depend on the time of day the ceremony takes place. At a wedding breakfast, the same type of food that you would serve at a "brunch" is entirely suitable—a little glorified, of course.

And, as the final touch, the inevitable wedding cake, which can be ordered at the local bakery or made at home if time permits—and plenty of delicious coffee.

No matter what time of day you hold the wedding reception, here are several suggestions that will help with your menu:

REFRESHMENT SUGGESTIONS

Jellied Chicken Ring, or Salmon Mold
Chicken a la King, or Creamed Sweetbreads in Ramekins
Paper-thin Ham Sandwiches
Olives and Radishes
Buttered Rolls
Molded Fruit Salad
Ice Cream

Now that you cannot get ice cream in attractive molds any more, here is an idea you might want to try—individual meringues filled with coffee ice cream and sprinkled with chocolate chips or shaved chocolate.

MERINGUES

3 egg whites ¾ cup sugar
Dash of salt
½ tsp. vanilla or almond extract

Beat the egg whites until stiff and dry. Beat in gradually ¾ cup sugar and the salt. Fold in remaining sugar and vanilla extract. Drop meringues by tablespoonfuls on ungreased baking sheet, piling mixture high in center. Bake in slow oven (275 deg. F.) about 40 to 45 minutes until meringues are dry on the surface and will slip off the sheet easily. Remove from sheet with wet knife. If meringues are to be served with ice cream, press in bottom crusts. Makes 10 medium-sized or 18 small meringues or kisses.

REFRIGERATOR COFFEE ICE CREAM

2-3 cup evaporated milk
1½ tsp. unflavored gelatin
1 cup strong coffee
½ cup sugar ¼ tsp. salt
2 egg whites, well beaten

Chill evaporated milk several hours in refrigerator. Soften gelatin in ¼ cup cold coffee. Heat remainder of coffee and stir into gelatin. Add sugar and salt, stir until dissolved. Chill in refrigerator until syrupy. Fold into beaten egg whites, beat well. Whip evaporated milk and fold into mixture. Pour into quart refrigerator tray and freeze until set. Remove from tray to bowl, beat well and return to tray to finish freezing. If desired, sprinkle with chocolate chips. Makes 1 quart.

SUGAR

Good indefinitely — Sugar stamps 30 and 31 in Book 4, five pounds each. Sugar stamp 40 good for five pounds for home canning through Feb. 28, 1945. A maximum of 20 additional pounds per person for home canning granted on application to local rationing board.

GASOLINE

Aug. 8 — Last day for A-10 coupons worth 3 gals. B-3 and C-3 coupons good for 5 gals.

SHOES

Good indefinitely — Airplane stamps 1 and 2 in Book 3, each valid for one pair.

SALVAGED FATS

One red stamp and two cents for each half-pound of used fat.

Return Ring

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: My fiance has just broken our engagement. Should I return the engagement ring? JANE.

Yes, dear girl, return the engagement ring to the young man, and promptly. For I assure you, you will be much happier if you remove from your life at once any symbol, and most important of all the engagement ring, that unhappily reminds you of the engagement that no longer exists. And this is particularly true in the circumstance when the man breaks the engagement.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Thursday —It has been called to my attention that in speaking of St. Elizabeth's Hospital as the only federal hospital for mental cases, I did not mention that the Veterans Administration and the services have hospitals that care for such cases also. The Veterans Administration has 28 neuro-psychiatric hospitals and one combination general and neuro-psychiatric institution at Tuskegee. St. Elizabeth's here is under the Department of the Interior and takes in many service connected cases.

Last night, the President and I gave a dinner for the Prime Minister of Poland. In talking to him, I was much interested to find that he had only gone into politics because he could not accomplish the things he wished to do for the agricultural people, with whom he was most closely associated, without identifying himself with the government. He comes from Western Poland, where the co-operatives were extensively developed and they were his great interest. So many people in our own country find that though their interest may be primarily in one particular objective, they cannot accomplish a great deal without taking part in the government of their country.

I THINK THAT this is one of the reasons why more and more young people are deciding that it is not enough to vote and to try to have an intelligent opinion on the public questions of the day. They must actually represent constituencies in order to feel that they are bringing the full strength of their ability to bear in favor of their particular objectives.

This morning I went to Forest Glen and attended the discussion group there to which the men bring questions which they are anxious to have answered. The answers are all looked up and given to them, and they can ask questions to clarify any points which they cannot understand. This seems to me a most useful service.

Black Suit Good Buy

By BETTINA BEDWELL

SUMMER is a time for color, and most of us pine for colorful clothes at this time of year. That's fine and dandy, but if you can only have one good Summer suit, then black is going to give you the most for your money.

And black can be colorful as well as chic. It all depends on you. A black shantung suit, one that is made by a good designer, will always look stunning, and quite often a lot more attractive than the colorful suits you see around you. Keep it from being somber with a pretty colored blouse, and other accessories.

A perfect example is the Villa Zigmund suit sketched. Beautifully tailored of black silk shantung, this suit is paired with a pastel blue crepe blouse trimmed with fine handwork details. Blue gloves may also be worn.

HOLLYWOOD, June 9—Bill, Minnie and the dog are working. And just so you'll know, Bill is William Powell, Minnie is Myrna Loy and the dog is Asta. The name of the picture is "The Thin Man Goes Home," and for your information the dog, Asta, is not the original Asta that you knew. No, Asta has completed his screen career, but the same trainer has another dog who is a carbon of Asta has been given the name, and you won't know the difference.

Myrna Loy

For this particular sequence, Bill and Minnie are seated on a trunk in the baggage car of a jouncing train. Surrounded by wired boxes of chickens, geese, three or four goats, cartons of limburger cheese, all because Asta made his presence known to the Pullman conductor.

"This is much nicer, isn't it," said Minnie, who is Nora Charles in the picture.

"Yes, more peaceful," says Bill, who is Nick Charles.

Suddenly bedlam breaks loose. Chickens cackle and geese honk, the goats start capering while Asta scurries about barking loudly. This isn't in the script, and Director Richard Thorpe signals for the camera to stop. In the midst of this uproar, two freshly-laid eggs roll out from under a couple of hens and come to a stop at the feet of Bill and Minnie.

"Well," laughs Bill, "those chickens are not content with drawing out the dialogue, but they show us up by laying a couple of eggs."

"Could it be," asks Minnie, "that they are critics and that's their opinion of the scene?"

JOEL McCREA is about the most mild mannered of all the Hollywood actors. He is a movie actor who was born in Hollywood, lived here, worked here, and knows the town. He is sort of conditioned for the movies.

At present he is doing a picture called "Fear," and this particular afternoon he, Gail Russel and Herbert Marshall are rehearsing a scene for the picture.

They are running through their lines, and while doing so, Joel and Marshall speak the same line simultaneously, to the evident amazement of both.

"Oh, I forgot to tell you, Joel," says Director Lewis Allen, "we decided to give that line to Burt."

"I hope it's O. K. with you," says Marshall, being courteous to his fellow performer.

"Sure. Sure," replies Joel. "Let's get going."

They continue with the scene. And a little later, Joel and Miss Russell speak the same line simultaneously, to their amazement.

"I forgot to tell you," says Director Allen, "I decided it would be better if Gail had that line."

"I trust that it's . . .," but Joel interrupted Gail Russell. "Sure, it's O. K. I don't care so long as it's for the good of the picture."

But before they continue rehearsing, Joel McCrea says:

"I can always wiggle my ears in the close-ups. That's something you can't take away from me."

They all politely laugh. For besides being a good guy Joel knows his movies and how to stay in a scene even without lines.

"ARE THESE OUR PARENTS?" at the Trans-Lux Theater answers in its six exciting reels the question of the title, we regret to say . . . Because the answer, if we can credit a most convincing and absorbing fillum, is "Yes, these are our parents!" . . . That must be qualified somewhat, of course, and the answer becomes that these are "too many of our parents!" . . . ★ ★ ★

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Black market liquor is coming down and down in price . . . But "nylons" are harder to get than heretofore, and the blacketeers are taking advantage of the growing scarcity by upping the prices . . . Carl Frost, the advertising man, entertained his office staff and a few especial clients at a sumptuous luncheon party at the Paddock Club . . . The sensational De Castro Sisters, who have been seen only in New York (at the Versailles) since their importation to America last winter, come to the Boston Latin Quarter, Sunday night, for two weeks . . . Mickey Redstone staked a first claim to the three singing De Castros the week they opened in New York, months ago . . . Neal "Sonny" Fontanne continues at the Quarter as master of ceremonies.

RUBY FOO'S DEN reopens tonight, and the announcement will be enough to whet the appetites for Chinese food of so many Bostonians who have abstained from Oriental dishes since The Den closed shop for repairs nearly two months ago . . . The new Den is larger, and with less seating capacity . . . It should be cooler than ever in the hot months, and Ruby's place was noted for its pleasant temperature . . . Ruby has been lucky to retain her staff, including Chef Henry, and Jack Chan, the maitre d', and Gordon and Sam, the captains, and Anita, the pretty cashier of the famous spot.

BOB PERRY, THE GOOD actor, is at the directorial helm of the Cambridge Summer Theater again this season . . . Business at Revere Beach is twice as great as it has been in mid-summer, taking it on an average over the past five years . . . Revere and Nantasket and other New England beach resorts are able to operate under Gay White Ways and the brightest of lighting systems . . . Poor old Coney Island, on the other hand, is still enjoying (but not much) a brown-out that nearly qualifies as a dim-out.

UNCONFIRMED AS YET, a whisper reaches this corner that Bing Crosby definitely will be a Boston visitor sometime in July . . . If The Bing is able to make it, we should not be surprised if his golf-playing pal, Bob Hope, pays a brief visit here too . . . Bob frankly "loves" Boston . . . The less emotional Mr Crosby "likes" Boston . . . Dolores (Reed) Hope, Bob's beautiful, olive-skinned, wife—who, incidentally, has as nice a microphone voice as most of the network thrushes—is always happy to be in Boston. She and Bob both regretted the brevity of their visit four years ago this summer . . . Getting back to Bing, have you "caught" his latest and best picture, "Going My Way?" as yet? It is a "must" on anybody's schedule.

"THE SONG OF BERNADETTE" and "Going My Way?", both tremendous hits, have religious themes, although entirely different ones . . . The way the American public turned to their churches for solace and hope on D-Day should be another clue to the deep faith of Americans . . . Meantime, the "drys" are beginning an all-out campaign to "repeal repeal" . . . And the "literature" now being received by columnists the country over is clever and dramatic.

By FRANCES DRAKE

Friday, June 9, 1944

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY—You are animated, interesting; also inclined to be contentious, a bit domineering. At times high-strung, with tendency to scattering energies. You can be successfully versatile if you master self-control and center on your chosen field of endeavor. Thus will advantages come your way. Cultivate poise. Birthdate: John Howard Payne, author "Home Sweet Home."

Manuel Ortiz Here For Bolvin Battle

By JACK CONWAY

MANUEL ORTIZ, 26-year-old Mexican who holds the world's bantamweight championship, is in Boston with Tommy Farmer, his manager, and Mrs. Farmer for a 10-round bout with Larry Bolvin of Providence at a Callahan A. C. show at National League Park on June 29. When Ortiz last visited Boston it was as a member of the Californian All-American team in 1938. He won the title in the flyweight class after a bitter battle with Bolvin.

Ortiz is the most colorful little fighter to come to Boston since Pancho Villa, famous Filipino, was world's flyweight champion. Since winning the world's bantamweight title from Lou Salica, Ortiz has successfully defended his championship 10 times. Eight of the title defense battles were held within a year which set a new record.

"I turned professional a few months after winning the All-America title in Boston," Ortiz told this writer. "I have had 64 bouts as a professional. Once I went under the management of Tommy Farmer I moved to the front rapidly."

"Manuel has had 34 bouts for me," volunteered Farmer. "He won 18 of them by knockouts, 14 by decisions, was held to one draw and suffered one loss.

"Tony Olivera is the boxer who defeated Ortiz. They later fought three times, Ortiz won each of these bouts, finally scoring a kayo."

Home Is in Mexio

ORTIZ SAID his home is at El Centro, Mexico.

"I am just 12 miles from the American border," he added. "I have a 260 acre farm in California. I have three trucks on my farm, and they are kept busy carrying vegetables and other things to the market.

"For a time we had our help problems, but we are now permitted to use Mexican nationals on the farms in California.

"I am glad to be back East again. I feel I shall win from Larry Bolvin and then defeat Willie Pep, world's featherweight champion.

"I now weigh 122 pounds, which is four pounds above the bantamweight limit. I intend to go after the world's featherweight and lightweight titles. I think I can defeat Juan Zurita, who won the NBA lightweight crown when he conquered Sammy Angott."

Has Own Baseball Team

ORTIZ REVEALED he has his own baseball team, and that he plans to workout with the Red Sox while he is in Boston.

"My club played the Pittsburgh Pirates in an exhibition game and it took Frankie Frisch's club 12 innings to defeat us by a score of 1 to 0. I played second base for the entire game. I confess I like baseball even better than I do boxing."

"When Ortiz is boxing, he keeps throwing punches as if they were baseballs," said Farmer. "He is the fastest punching little man I have ever seen. He's even greater than Villa was at his best."

Farmer said Manuel has a younger brother, Trini, 21, who is also a boxer. Trini is a featherweight and is a particularly good puncher, acording to Farmer.

"He is the only boxer who ever knocked Manuel down in gym," asserted Farmer.

Ortiz, Tommy Farmer and Mrs. Farmer were greeted by Eddie Mack and a large delegation of friends when they arrived in Boston. It was a home coming for the Farmers as they lived here before going to California 30 years ago. Tommy has conditioned some of the leading moving picture stars while he has managed numerous boxers.

"Ortiz is the class of the boxers I have managed," said Farmer. "He's a real champion."

Litwhiler Certainly Gets a Sweet Break

PHILADELPHIA, June 9 (AP)—J. Kennard Weaver, Draft Board No. 54 chairman, confirmed yesterday that St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder Danny Litwhiler has been reclassified 2-A because his board regards baseball as "contributing to public welfare, health and interest."

Weaver explained that Litwhiler was deferred under a Selective Service regulation of May 12 which provides that a person over 25 engaged in activities "in support of public interest or health" can be given a 2-A rating.

Litwhiler, formerly a Phillies' outfielder, is married and the father of a pre-Pearl Harbor child.

Sports Boom Ahead

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP)—Edwin H. Atherton, Pacific Coast Conference athletic commissioner, predicted a tremendous boom in collegiate athletics after the war.

Mass. Race Board Acts On Suffolk Riot Case

By JACK CONWAY

The Massachusetts Racing Commission today called a special meeting of the stewards and officials of Suffolk Downs to get all of the facts in connection with the riot at the East Boston track following the seventh race yeterday.

In that race, Bayport, who finished first, was moved back to third position and Seven Hills declared the winner when Jockey Sisto made a claim of foul.

Harry Pratt, who was up on Bayport, admitted to the stewards that his horse interfered with other horses after the break of the one mile and a sixteenth race.

A part of the crowd did not take kindly to the decision of the stewards and surged onto the track. It was necessary to call upon Boston and Revere police details in order to clear the track for the running of the eighth race.

SHUT MUTUELS

The mutuel plant was shut faster than usual for the eighth race, and the final event on the card was run off without any interference from the crowd.

"The Racing Commission intends to discuss all phases of the Suffolk Downs case with the stewards and track officials," declared Chairman Charles F. Connors today. "We have asked the stewards and officials of the track to be prepared to appear before us at a special meeting at the track."

Bruce Wetmore is in charge of operations at Suffolk Downs in the absence of President Gordon B. Hanlon who is in the Federal Court in connection with cases against the Aldred Investment Trust who controls Suffolk Downs.

Charles F. Adams, director of racing at Suffolk Downs and former president of the East Boston track, has been out of town for several days, and he was not expected to be at the track this week.

Willard Stevens is in charge of police and other details at Suffolk Downs. He stated that yesterday there were 20 policemen, one lieutenant, two sergeants, two motorcycle policemen, five plain clothesmen and nine detectives on duty at the track. This is the usual week-day detail which is increased on Saturday.

POLICE LEAVE POSTS

Many of the policemen had moved from their regular posts on the track to the rear of the racing plant to take over traffic details at the time the crowd surged on to the track and tried to break up the day's racing.

It was stated at the track today that the reason the harrows were moved to the position they took at the track was to protect the steward's stand. It was denied that any attempt was made to use the harrows to drive the spectators from the track.

It was also denied that a watering cart at any time was directed at persons on the track. The watering cart, however, was in the area where persons were, but said to be on routine work. Some persons were sprayed with water from the cart.

The rule under which it was possible to move Bayport from first to third position has been adopted by Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island. A horse committing a foul was formerly out of the money. Now he can be moved back of the horses with whom he interfered. In this case Seven Hills and Indian Gift were moved out front of Baylor in the finding ratings.

It was estimated that about 250 persons of the 12,500 crowd took part in the hostile demonstrations.

Following the races no person who did not have special business at the track was permitted by the police to enter the administration building.

Deferred Sox

These New York Yankee bench-warmers, who, incidentally live is glass houses, and who enjoyed ribbing the three Red Sox players who recently had been deferred by their draft boards might find the following revealing: Catcher Roy Partee, whose homer won yesterday's game, has a dislodged segment of the vertebra; Leon Culberson is suffering from a floating cartilage in the knee; and Bobby Doerr has a fractured ear-drum. Bobby has been ordered to report back to the examining board in three months, but since this ear condition has prevailed since early childhood it is unlikely that Doerr will be called to the colors.

Stagg Raps Chicago For Dropping Sports

CHICAGO, June 9 (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, for 41 years football coach at the University of Chicago, believes the Maroons should not withdraw from intercollegiate athletics for the duration.

Stagg, now grid coach at the College of the Pacific, expressed his views to the "Order of the C," athletic lettermen's organization of the university, in a letter read at the group's annual banquet last night.

Dykes Seeks New Contract

CHICAGO, June 9 (INS) — James J. Dykes disclosed today that he is shopping for a new contract with the Chicago White Sox.

Dykes' current three-year agreement runs out at the end of this season and the peppery Sox leader declared he doesn't care to wait that long before negotiating a new pact.

Moreover, the man with the longest managerial regime in Chicago baseball—he now is in his 11th year—made it known there would be no bickering and no one-year contract.

"I'm either wanted or not wanted," Dykes remarked. "There is no need to wait to see where we finish."

The White Sox are in the midst of a winning streak, which includes seven straight up to today.

Partee, Ryba Spark Red Sox New Drive

By BILL GRIMES

Hats off to Roy Partee and "Iron Mike" Ryba who played the star roles in yesterday's Red Sox 8 to 7 victory over the New York Yankees.

Roy Partee

With the score tied and one down in the 9th, Roy Partee hit the first ball Atley Donald pitched into the left field screen for a game winning home run.

"Old Mike" went to the rescue in the 4th inning with the score 6 to 5 with one man on and no one out. The Yanks tied the count but that run was charged against Woods. Then, Mike allowed only five hits and one run in five innings. In the fifth, seventh, eighth and ninth rounds Old Mike set the world's champions down in one, two, three order. He was touched up for three hits, which pushed a run across the plate, in the sixth.

The Yankees are now in a bad way. They have lost nine out of their last eleven games, and as a result of their two defeats at Fenway Park are only one game out in front of the Red Sox.

There is no major league game in Boston today, but tomorrow the Red Sox and Yankees will resume activities at Fenway Park and will wind up the series with a Sunday double-header.

Clem Hausman will pitch for the Red Sox tomorrow and Joe McCarthy will probably use Walter Dubiel.

Dots and Dashes

Thousands of war workers missed yesterday's twilight game at Fenway Park, which started before 6 o'clock without the playing of the national anthem . . . The Red Sox are scheduled for another twilight game on Tuesday against the Athletics . . . Bosford Young, the Gov. Dummer Academy shortstop, worked out with the Yankees before the game . . . Coach Johnny Koslowski brought him in for Art Fletcher to look over . . . Young enters Dartmouth in the fall.

Judging by the way he dove between the bag and Bud Metheny, who tried to steal third in the opening inning, Jimmy Bucher isn't spike shy . . . Trainer Win Green's casualty list is mounting daily.

Yesterday, Joe Bowman joined up, after Pete Fox nailed him on the left ankle with a line drive during batting practice . . . Oscar Judd, who was down to pitch yesterday, decided that his arm, which he hurt in Cleveland, wasn't right and Joe Cronin substituted George Woods . . . And, after blowing the first game to the Red Sox, Manager Joe McCarthy decided to use Joe Page, who is the Yanks' leading pitcher, with a record of five wins and one defeat . . . Page is the son of a Pennsylvania coal miner and he dug coal for a living before taking up baseball.

In 1936, Page, while on his way to the mine, was in an automobile wreck, receiving a compound fracture to his left leg . . . Page had more trouble getting through the first inning yesterday than he has had with any opponents this season.

The Red Sox pushed five runs across in the opening frame on three hits and as many walks . . . Pete Fox sparked the Sox to that big first round, with a solid double to left . . . Cronin refused to bench Jimmy Bucher and George Metkovich, his left hand hitters, when he learned that Joe McCarthy was going to pitch Lefty Page . . . Bucher made a great play on Mike Garbark's high hopper in the 2d and then Manager Cronin came up with a nifty pick up for the out . . . After missing a change of pace pitch by a country mile, Cronin started Bob Johnson and Bobby Doerr running and then slapped a line single to left, scoring Johnson and moving Doerr around to third . . . And that was all for Mr. Page.

Bill Zuber took over for the Yanks . . . In two and two-thirds innings, the Red Sox got to Page for six runs on five hits, aided and abetted by four walks . . . With a six run lead, George Woods lost his control in the third, filling the bases by walking Grimes, Stirnweiss and Levy . . . Then, with two down, Nick Etten bounced a single by Cronin and before the third man was out, the Yanks had scored four runs.

Ed Levy looked like a plumber trying to do a job without any tools on Bucher's routine fly in the third . . . After Don Savage and Mike Garback connected with successive two-baggers off the left field wall in the fourth, Woods was requested to retire by Manager Cronin and old "Iron Mike" Ryba, who has not fully recovered from the blow on the temple he received on Wednesday, took over the pitching duties.

Woods didn't make a favorable impression, especially in view of the fact that the Red Sox had given him six runs to work on.

Park Leaguers Shuffle About

The Park League standings that have been in for considerable shuffling around in the last few days—they took another shuffling last night when the Caseys lost to the Arsenal and the Navy Yard beat the Linehans—should remain unchanged after tonight's games as the Navy Yard plays the cellar club, Hicks Engineering, and Caseys tackle thus far impotent West Roxbury A. A.

On past record neither West Roxbury nor Hicks can be considered dangerous but each is starting its best pitcher in an effort to upset pre-game dope and a victory for either would be a big upset.

In the other games on tonight's schedule third place—and climbing fast — Watertown Arsenal meets Linehan Club at Healy Field and Lawley's travel to Cleveland Circle to play the Trailways.

Lawley's has picked up some promising material in the last week and has started its climb back to the first division while Trailways, which looked promising a week ago, is down in the doldrums, dropping a game to the Hicks team last night by forfeit.

While the fight for first between the Navy Yard and Caseys commands the most interest, the scraps for the other places can't be overlooked as each will have important bearing in the final standings.

Medford Coach Plays Heads-Up

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Coach Art Tirrell added one touch of genius to the Medford High School baseball team to send the Mustangs soaring into the semi-final round of the Eastern State championship play this afternoon with the most enviable record of any nine in the 10-year history of the Schoolboy Writers' Ass'n diamond carnivals.

Going into today's game against Lawrence, the Medford outfit was flirting with its 18th straight victory of the season and it had one championship tucked away long ago—the Greater Boston League title.

Tirrell's touch was added in the sixth inning of the qualifying game against Cambridge Latin with the score deadlocked. He called for a squeeze play after John Coppinger had moved around to third base after a walk and it was anything but a squeeze as Ernie Falco laid down a neat sacrifice to allow his teammate to score the winning run without the semblance of a protest from the Cantab fielders.

Now, Coach Tirrell will try his magic wand again as he waves right-hand, Powerhouse Joe Puccio, with a 3-0 record, out of the bull-pen into the starting assignment against Lawrence. Puccio has been great for three innings all season, clever for three more but then it's been up to Dana MacNeil, another rightie, to pick up from there.

It's Coach Tirrell's plan to have MacNeil ready to take over on a minute's notice to push Medford into the finals on Saturday.

In yesterday's nightcap Lawrence just had too much for Natick both in hitting and pitching. Lawrence knocked Leo Grady out of the box early and registered 15 hits for their 12 runs, while Bill Peterson stopped Clasby and Co. with five scattered bingles.

It's unlikely that the Essex County champion can touch the Mustang hurlers for anything like 12 bingles today but if the Lawrence hurlers can hold Medford to as few hits as Natick garnered, then Medford's victory streak could vanish and the complexion of the tourney change considerably.

In the opening game, in spite of previous announcements, Somerville was to tangle with Newton. Original plans had to be shifted because of graduations but in order not to give any one team the advantage of a day of rest, it has been decided by the committee to stick to the plan of other years.

Somerville, after romping against Brockton in its opener planned to pitch its ace Charlie Osgood right back to the mound. Osgood turned in a five inning stint but then was removed to save his arm for this tilt. His battery mate was to be Charlie Shea, who was to catch in spite of a pair of sore hands.

Masi's Fame Widespread

FT. LOGAN, Col., June 9 (AP)—It's happened again to Pfc. Phil Masi of (3195 Hull) of the Bronx.

He's been mistaken for the Boston Braves' catcher of the same name every time he arrives at a new station.

This time it was proclaimed in print that the catcher had arrived and he again denied it, much to the disgust of the managers of the team he was supposed to join.

At least once Pvt. Masi, who knows practically nothing about catching, wished that he were the catcher. That was back in Ft. Dix where for 22 days he had no KP duty and wondered why. He learned when the sergeant came around and dumped a catcher's outfit in front of him. Pvt. Masi confessed and the next day he was on KP and the day following he was shipped out.

Six Racing Days For Marshfield

The State Racing Commission announced yesterday that a license had been granted to the Marshfield Agricultural and Horticultural Ass'n to hold six days of horse racing on the Marshfield Fair grounds from Aug. 29 to Sept. 4, both dates inclusive.

Sammy Byrd Scores 6 Birdies in Tourney

PHILADELPHIA, June 9 (INS)—Sammy Byrd, former big league baseballer, now pro at the Detroit Plum Holly Country Club, birdied six times in the opening day of the $17,500 war bond tourney to pace the field of 126 linksmen by two strokes today with a blazing 66—five under par.

Three thousand spectators at the Torresdale-Frankford Country Club saw Byrd whip into a whirlwind finish in the last nine holes, while a dark horse, Bob Hamilton, ex-caddy from Evansville, Ind., followed him by clipping three strokes from par for 32-36—68.

"4500 BOSSIES KEEP ME ON THE GO...

"Sure glad I've got a FORD!"

says L. L. BISHOP
Dairy Farm Inspector
Madison, Wisconsin

Everywhere you hear the same good things about Ford cars. These cars stay young a long time in looks and performance. They are planned that way—built that way. They're lively and ready to go. They're easy on gas and repair costs are low. Use Ford Protective Service and, as the miles roll up, you'll say with pride, "Sure glad I've got a Ford!"

"I TRAVEL A TOUGH SCHEDULE inspecting 150 dairy herds a month in all weather. My 1940 Ford also hauls dairy equipment repair parts from Chicago and Milwaukee. When I figure up how easy this car is on oil, gas and tires, I'm sure glad I've got a Ford!"

"MY WIFE HAS TO BE AT HER WORK every day at the medical school of the university. But on week-ends you will find us in our Victory Garden. The Ford surely comes in handy for that work too! It costs little to keep a Ford running well and up to par."

"REPAIRS ARE SELDOM NECESSARY. My car has certainly proved its durability. With proper servicing at my Ford dealer's, including routine adjustment, thorough lubrication and washing, it stands up splendidly and keeps its good appearance."

NEWS NOTES—Ford produces as much steel every month as would be required for two battleships—uses 120 carloads of coal a day in the Rouge plant alone—makes enough ammonium sulphate to fertilize 225 acres.

Prayer on Battlefield—A chaplain (right) who accompanied Americans to the thick of the fighting reads a brief prayer for men of an armored unit as they await the signal to move against the Nazis from their beachhead in France. Some of the men stand in their Sherman tank.

Casualty

A Coast Guard LCI (landing craft, infantry), listing to port, pulls alongside a transport to evacuate her troops just before the craft capsized and sank while taking part in the invasion of France. Note troops clustered on one side of the ship trying to counter the list.

Wounded

American fighting men, wounded in the storming of French beaches, sit at the foot of a chalk cliff as they get medical attention, food and cigarettes before being taken back to England. One soldier's head is entirely enveloped in bandages.
